PANTHERS SMEAR GAELS 22-6; FACE BEAVERS HERE FRI.

By JIM KEECH

With almost brutal workman-like efficiency, the Powerhouse Panthers of Watervliet High School unloaded a devastating first quarter barrage against an outclassed Galien Gael eleven last Friday night by gunning down the host team with a convincing 22-6 score. In what was billed as a "battle of titans" by pre-game prognosticators, the local "Pad-Rattlers" stung the Gaels on a scintillating punt return by Jim Kolenko. The Cats followed this shocker with a grinding short-fied drive — and added the capper with a nifty late-period run by fullback Dave Day. Before the first quarter had quieted, Watervliet had taken complete command of the game by a convincing margin, 20-0. Gary Tarantino's talented toe accounted for two extra points, the third going slightly off the mark. Tino's kick-offs were also impressive at the senior guard boomed three down to the Galien 10-15 yardline during the course of the action.

Kolenko's punt return was the result of some classic blocking on the part of the Panthers. Don Benjamin dumped three would-be Gael tacklers at the "corner" giving the fleet Panther back a fairly clear lane down the close sideline. A second crunching block was put on by Dave Johnson, clearing Kolenko at midfield. Then the Cat scoring leader sidestepped the final two defenders and waltzed for the sixth star on his helmet as he returned a Galien punt for a 75 yard touchdown.

GALIEN GANG FAILS TO STOP KOLENKO — undaunted by a would-be Gael tackle, Jim Kolenko in the next play made a four yard plunge for his second touchdown of the night. Dave Day ripped through a hole for the third Panther touchdown late in the first quarter. Final score—WHS 22 and Galien 6.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's! There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button? Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field? Some people think so. Our competitors.

Camaro. Who needs to say "announcing" or "new". The Huger. And just look how it all hangs together. No gingerbread anywhere. We've improved the interior, too. Quieted the ride. Made the Astro Ventilation ventilate better. The power range is very impressive.

Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport striping; power disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires. Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice: On, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough.

Maybe it will help. Putting you first, keeps us first.

SOUTH SCHOOL NEWS

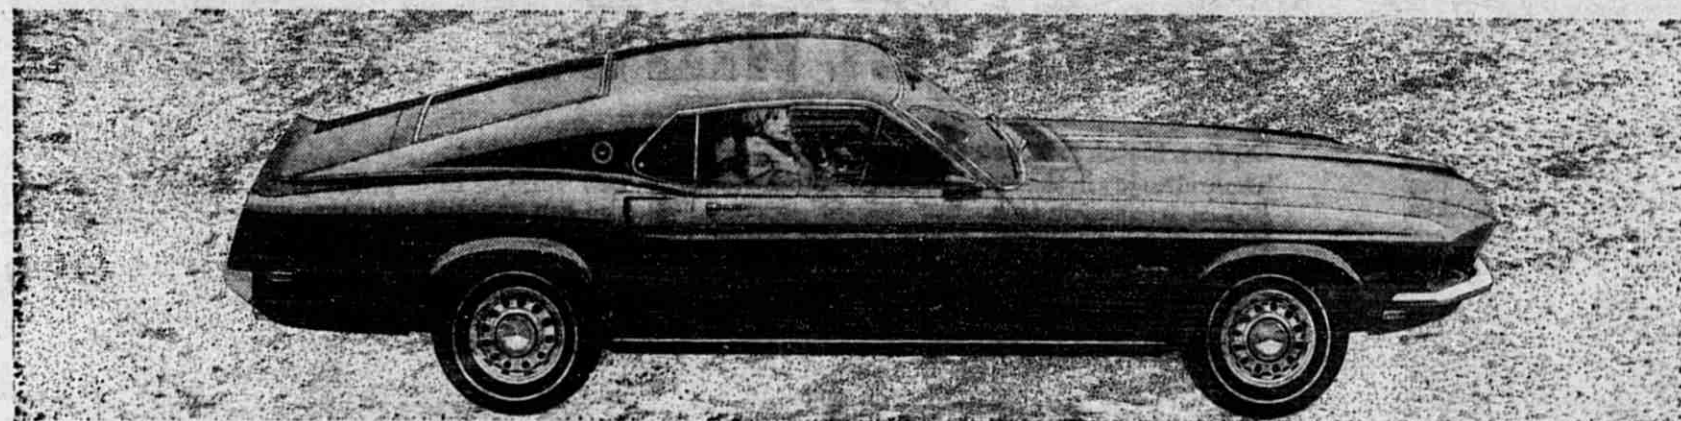

Wilma Thor 3rd Grade
We finished our study on space last week by writing a story and putting it in our picture book about space. We have a news bulletin board for pictures and news brought in by the children. Last Friday, during the warm part of the day, two honey bees came in through the open windows. They seemed to especially like the top of Mike Evan's head. We were finally able to knock them out, toss them out the window and closed the windows. Those who received A grades on the final spelling test last Friday are: Lois Wendzel, Jennifer Steele, Jeffery Parker, Charles Martin, Deanna Lidberg, Kelly Kinkpatrick, Joseph Jensen, Rick Hamlin, Cannon, and BuJack. Mrs. Minshel's 4th Grade We, with Miss Estrada's and Miss Tartantino's fourth grade enjoyed a good movie this morning on Safety Patrol. We hope that our boys learn to do as fine a job next year like the fifth grade boys are doing this year. Many of our boys and girls have been out with this "flu bug" that is going around. We wish that the weather man would be a little more moderate. Perhaps we would all feel better. Those whose race cars sped another 100 miles on our race track in spelling last week are as follows: Susan Bahr, Weldon Bisnett, Debra Cerny, Leora Faulterback, Barbara Frazier, Donnie Harry, Melonie Isbrecht, Randall Marler, James Sheffer, Margaret Steffens and Sheila Warren.

We finally have our big birthday cake made and up. David Sherer had a birthday September 13, Shane Edwards was one the 29 of this month, and Thelen Paulk has his September 30. We light our candles with gold stars. Mrs. Kogge's 5th Grade This week Friday our people in the South School will have their pictures taken. Letters and envelopes were sent home for this. Roberta Hamilton is a new pupil in our room. This makes 31 in our room now. We are hoping we have a large turn out to our P.T.A. October 3 at 7:30. We would like to see a large percentage visit our room. We hold the plaque from the last meeting last year, and we hope to be able to keep it this year. This is for the largest attendance of parents for any room. Those receiving two A's in their spelling books on our last unit were, John Blocker, Elaine Henschel, Debra McKean, James Nigro, James Ramm, Elizabeth Smith, Theresa Thornburg and Tommy Woodard.

PEONY CARE

This fall is the time to be planting new peony roots or if you have old clumps which have not been divided for ten or twelve years it would be well to divide them also. When the foliage is dry and brown cut back to the base. Dig clumps carefully so as not to damage the roots. With a sharp spade or heavy knife cut into several pieces, making sure that each division has at least two or three buds. Prepare the soil deeply for the planting will last for several years. Put a cup of dry sheep manure in the bottom of each hole, mix with the soil, so that the root will not come in direct contact with it. Plant with about two inches of soil over the buds and firm all around the root. Then water thoroughly.

MADONNA LILIES

The Madonna lily or candidum is probably the most popular of all lilies for it is seen in more gardens than any other variety. It differs in many ways from other base rooting varieties. It thrives best when planted in a shallow and sandy loam, and should be planted in August or soon after so that the roots get well established and the rosette of leaves develop before cold weather comes. The rosette of leaves which come up should be protected through the winter with a mulch of straw or leaves. Other lilies, such as the day lilies, lemon lilies, rubrum, regal and tiger are among the common varieties. Lilies don't do well in decaying vegetable matter, but rather in a good soil and weak solution of fertilizer.

The history of the lily dates back to the garden of Eden. In Palestine Asia Minor, Syria and classic Greece, the Madonna lily was cherished not only for its beauty but for its food and medicinal value.

All through the Middle Ages this ancient lily was the symbol of feminine purity and heavenly grace. The temple of Solomon was adorned with sculptured lilies and with the advent of Christianity a new importance was given to the Madonna lily for it became the symbol of the Virgin Mary.

We have today 87 different recognized varieties and of these 49 are from Asia, 24 from North America and 14 from Europe.

FALL PLANTING

Some nurserymen advise fall planting for all perennials as they really do far better if planted in the fall. This includes day lilies, peonies, bleeding heart, phlox, lily of the valley, azaleas and rhododendrons. Such planting can be done as late as October although it is well to get roots well established before freezing weather comes.

Wild flowers are much more apt to live if transplanted in the fall. The roots of all are going dormant and withstand transplanting much better.

This is not only true of flowers but of berries as well. In this category all of the raspberries, dew berries, persimmons, peaches, pears, apricots, cherries and apples. This same nurseryman says that all deciduous trees should be planted late in October and November. It surely would save time in the spring if we follow his advise, and they say that they will grow 50 percent better than spring planted ones, beside gaining about a year. Next spring the fall planted stock make a rapid but sound progress due to the fact that top growth starts sooner creating an abundant leaf growth which is so necessary to the life and vitality of the plant.

Spring plants have to do this in a much shorter time and often run into dry conditions before this growth is achieved. As a result berries may not produce the first year as they have not had time enough for roots to get established and recover from the shock of transplanting.

Don't worry about frost dates because you can plant as late as November and December in most areas. Water the plants weekly for good root growth, until the ground freezes.

Midway Baptist Church

Today let us consider the "Pat Answer" and "The Double Standard" as devices used by many parents in the moral training of their children. Both can be devastating to parent-child relationships in that they breed distrust, being dishonest means of dealing with the growing child's problems.

Children are born with questioning minds and naturally look to their parents as "problem-solvers." They want to know the answers to the things they can't understand. Their questions become less general and more specific as they grow older. At 8 or 9 they become aware of the variances between standards in their home and the homes of their friends. In some cases this may not be too evident, but specifically in the area of moral and religious taboos, and the degree of discipline in general, there will be differences between the home rules of the church-related family and the non-church family.

"Pat Answer"

When your child questions you regarding these variances, do you give him a "Pat Answer" such as: "Our church doesn't believe in that," or "Christians (Baptists, Methodists, etc.) don't do that." With no attendant explanation the child may be satisfied for awhile, until he begins to think through and again comes up with, "But WHY..." You have given no concrete answer on which to base a standard of behavior. He wants authoritative REASONS why such a thing is so! If he does not get them from you, he will surely yield to the pressure of his friends to conform to their standards of life. They can always give a multitude of reasons why their actions are right, although the only argument usually needed is "Everybody else is doing it." It is of the utmost importance that we have a valid, well thought out, reasonable argument for the restrictions we impose upon our children. These standards of conduct must be based upon the authoritative standards laid down in the Word of God.

Teach Standards

We also negatively teach our children standards by the use of the "Double Standard". It is illustrated by the parent who sends the child to church and Sunday School, thus saying by their actions: "We want you to heed the teachings given you there; they are valuable to you and worth the time and effort we spend to expose you to them." And yet the parents, by their non-compliance with those teachings in their own personal life, fairly scream at the child, "DO AS WE SAY: NOT AS

WE DO"! What about the parent who tries to teach his child honesty, but gloats over how he out-foxed the government on his Income Tax. Or the parent who says "Respect Law and order" and while driving over the speed limit asks Johnny to watch out the rear window for cops. What about teaching a boy to treat all girls as he would his mother or sister, when the boy can observe dad looking at another woman with desire and lust written on his face.

These things are all a part of the training which will help or hinder your child in his adjustment to the forces of immorality around him.

of America's most distinguished 1969 motor cars . . .

- ★ Lincoln-Continental
- ★ Mercury Marquis
- ★ Montego
- ★ Cougar

SUBTLE IDENTIFICATION with the Continental Mark III is achieved by Lincoln Continental for 1969 with a newly-styled grille. The new models are slightly more than 224 inches long and are powered by a 460-cubic-inch V-8 engine for more responsive performance and greater efficiency. Horsepower rating is 365 at 4600 rpm.

THE MARQUIS and the Marquis Brougham, a new line of larger luxury motorcars by Lincoln-Mercury Division, bear a close resemblance to the distinctive Lincoln Continental.

THE MERCURY MONTEGO car line—which is setting new sales records in the current model year—presents a fresh appearance and additional power throughout a spectacular new engine line-up for 1969. A bigger six-cylinder engine offers new acceleration and power and improved durability yet retains comparable economy.

A CONVERTIBLE model is added as Cougar for 1969 presents a longer, wider and roomier sports/specialty car with entirely new body and new power. The Cougars are three-and-a-half inches longer at 193.8 inches, and nearly three inches wider at 74.2 inches. There's more hip room and shoulder room both front and rear, and there's more luggage capacity and fuel capacity.

 "Small Church Just For Small People" is the headline of an interesting story, published just recently in a nearby newspaper. It was written by Holcomb B. Noble and dated Milton, Mass. Accompanying the story is a picture of the church with the children leaving after a service.

gather at their own little church for their own formal worship service. "The size of the church is no indication of the importance of the children and their parents attach to it. It has just seven pews, which are only two-and-one-half feet high and the tip of the white steeple barely touches the sky." But, the story continues, the church is a major cornerstone in the religious foundation of the First Parish Unitarian, in Milton.

This idea of a small church just for small children came to light about 25 years ago when the parishioners decided Sunday school classes were not enough to introduce religion to their children. They felt the children needed serious adult-like services, simple enough for them to understand but solemn enough to invoke at least the most unsophisticated religious feeling.

Consequently, the Unitarians bought a 100-year-old one-room school house, moved it onto the grounds next to the first parish and built a similar steeple.

The main church, according to the article, was built in 1787, the fourth the parish had constructed since its formation 17 years after the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth.

Only kindergartens through eighth graders attend this tiny church, which is run by a junior council, elected by the children. Ten-year-old Michael Glendon is the bell ringer, and shortly before 11 a.m. the boys and girls begin to arrive. The boys are dressed in brown suit coats and matching pants, and the girls wear wide-brimmed yellow or blue straw hats and plaid suits or lace dresses.

The children serve as ushers, have their own choir and collect and count the offerings, which they keep separate from other church funds. The service last 15 or 20 minutes.

"The church's simplicity, the jewel-embroidered altar cloth, a wood carving of Christ and three children at his feet, a plaque signifying the crusades and courage, white walls and contrasting plain dark mahogany drapes and the V-shaped roof take the child out of the busy world of Little League, playing cops and robbers and fighting Viet Cong guerrillas," continued the narrative. Its minister calls it a retreat for the children into the quieter world of religion, and he remarked that the church isn't for the children as much as it is by the children.

Would that there were more "Small Churches For Small People."

Also Mrs. Grahn's niece and husband Mr. and Mrs. Gus Zielke of Battle Creek, came for the event. Literary Guild Entertained With Program On Astrology

The first fall meeting of the Literary Guild was held on Sept. 10 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Knutson. Sixteen members and two guests were present. Guests were Mrs. James Furda and Mrs. Fred Rauth.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Gilford Weber turned the program over to Mrs. Richard Bridges. "Astrology and its Effects", was her topic, and quite appropriate, since this is the theme of this year's program book. Mrs. Bridges spoke of the effects that the Moon has as it passes through all the signs of the Zodiac approximately every 28 days. Astrology is used by many and in various fields such as: in predicting health, finances, future plans and in determining personality factors. As a part of the program, members were grouped together according to their Zodiac signs. Then Mrs. Bridges gave some helpful hints, traits and tendencies to be aware of to each group. This was both amusing as well as enlightening and makes one want to look into this media more.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Gordon Knutson and her co-hostess Mrs. LeRoy Hiler.

There is change of place of the next meeting. This will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Curtis on Sept. 24, 1968 and the co-hostesses will be Mrs. W. Leverton, Mrs. E. Stickney and Mrs. D. Horton.

over the remaining chalk-marks for the initial score. The crowd-pleasing play covered 75 yards. Playing solid heads-up football, the Panthers cashed in on a second Gallen mishap when Larry John Rogel covered a Gael fumble on the ensuing kickoff. Watervliet then put together an awe-inspiring march for the second tally. The locals ripped the Gaels' defense apart — culminated by a smashing four-yard-plunge by Kolenko behind some solid left-side blocking by Joe Frontczak, Rock Rudell, and Bob McVay.

With the score reading Watervliet 14, Gallen 0, the Gaels launched yet another drive against the Panther defense. Dave Johnson, hard-nosed Watervliet linebacker, choked off the Gallen advance by spearing a misguided aerial at the Gael 40 yard line. On the first offensive play from scrimmage, Dave Day slashed through a yawning hole over Ted Olmsted, Tarantino, and Johnson, ripped back to his left against the defensive flow, and sprinted untouched for Watervliet's third score of the period. WHS 20, GHS 0.

During the second half, both teams presented the large gathering of fans with a vicious display of this collision sport. Gallen stunned everyone present midway through the third canto when their fullback, Chase, took advantage of a small glimpse of daylight in the Panther defensive alignment, and whistled up the middle for 65 yards and Gallen's only score.

Throughout the rest of the contest, Watervliet's hard-hitting eleven managed to move the ball well — and defensively contain every Gael attempt to score. Near the halfway mark of the fourth quarter, a fine defensive effort by the Panthers forced the Gaels into a kicking situation. The punter tried to borrow a fake-and-run page from Dave Johnson's punting manual — but Rock Rudell slammed the kicker to the turf in the endzone for a two-point play. Final Score: WHS 22, GHS 6.

EXTRA POINT MAN—Gary (The Toe) Tarantino is having a good year kicking. He was 2 for 3 against Gallen.

Having taken the measure of the Red Arrow Conference's two major threats, St. Joe Catholic and Gallen, the Panthers will turn their attention to a vastly improved Eau Claire Beaver football team this Friday night. The Beavers downed St. John's Irish in a thrilling game for their opener — and then blasted a hapless Bridgman team, 28-0, with several additional touchdowns called back because of penalties. Eau Claire is led offensively by converted end Rich Haskins at the fullback slot, and an outside speed threat in the person of frosh Charles Osby. Defensively, the Beavers' coach Maxwell, lauded the efforts of tackle Paul Sopher, guard Vern Herter, linebacker Darwin Sanders, and halfback Don Grabemeyer. Kickoff time at the Panther Bowl is slated for 7:30 p.m.
