Walking back to happiness

A FORMER sailor will be walking backwards from Burntwood to Lichfield to mark D-Day - and raise £2,000 for a special memorial stone.

Richard Stimpson, of the Allied Special Forces Association, will be joined by fellow seaman Ray Robinson for next Tuesday's fundraiser (June 7).

The duo, both from Burntwood, will be setting off at 9.30am and are hoping to raise funds towards a stone of liberty, at the National Memorial Arboretum in Alrewas. It will remember Vera Atkins, former head of the women's Special Operations Executive.

Richard, whose mother was a special agent in the women's operations, is keen to see the ladies recognised.

The walk, which starts from Burntwood Swan Island ends 4.5 miles away at Bowling Green Island and is expected to take up to two and a half hours.

But Ray, who will celebrate his 85th birthday this weekend, is partially sighted so will travel alongside and support Richard while on his mobility scooter.

Richard, also secretary of the Royal Navy Association, said: "It is important that I accomplish this to raise whatever money I can for the stone. I have known

Ray for many years and it is a privilege to have him alongside me showing his support.

"We work very hard at the Arboretum and hope to keep improving the grounds as a place for future generations and so we hope that the public will show their kindness during this event."

There will be a bucket collection on the day or sponsors can call Mike Colton of the Allied Special Forces Association on 07929118598.

Last chance to use boardwalk

VISITORS to a nature trust near Rugeley have the last chance to use a popular boardwalk this weekend.

The decaying 20-year-old walkway at The Wolseley Centre is being closed on Sunday (June 5), the day after Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's annual Food and Beer Festival.

An appeal is currently under way to generate funds for a new boardwalk at the centre, for which £60,000 is needed.

Around £30,000 has already been donated by the Staffordshire Aggregates Levy Grant Scheme (SALGS), but the trust must find the rest of the money itself.

Alison Rhodes, manager of the Wolseley Centre, said: "It will be quite a nostalgic day because we'll be treading the boards for the last time, but I think that the new boardwalk will be even more popular and we won't have to keep repairing it."

The Food and Beer Festival runs from 11am-11pm and more than 30 local ales will be on offer. Other attractions include a cookery demonstration from Balti Spice, food stalls and live music.

Alison added: "The festival is always a really enjoyable event whatever the weather and visitors can either relax outside on the bank or sit inside one of our marquees."

To donate to the appeal visit www.staffs-wildlife.org.uk/page/donate or call 01889 880100.

Book in at library sale

BARGAINS are sure to be on offer when Hednesford Library hosts a bumper book sale next Monday (June 6).

Books from libraries across Staffordshire will be on offer, including adult fiction and non-fiction, children's books and talking books.

Staffordshire County Councillor Pat Corfield, cabinet member for culture, communities and customers, said: "These sales always prove really popular with the local community."

"Library staff hope that everyone will come along to pick up a bargain."

For more information contact Hednesford Library, based on Market Street, by calling 01543 422798.

Library assistant Joan Mellor looks forward to a book sale taking place at Hednesford Library

Charter fair procession

A STREET market, disco and a host of decorated trolleys will act as a prelude to the annual Rugeley Charter Fair this weekend.

Festivities will begin at 10.15am on Saturday (June 4) from the Globe pub, when schools and businesses will unleash their decorated trolleys.

Brook Square and Lower Brook Street will be the location for the market stalls.

The monthly lotto draw follows, before the winner of the R Factor continues the procession, on the way to joining the Charter Fair parade, leading on to Hagley Park for the main event.

OUR JEAN'S GOT TALENT

Jean Martyn reaches the final of Britain's Got Talent

WELLWISHERS from Cannock are cheering on the talented Jean Martyn as she wins over the hearts of the nation on Britain's Got Talent.

The former music teacher, who was born in Lichfield but now lives in Brewwood, wowed TV viewers and all four judges with her boogie-woogie set on Tuesday's semi-final show.

Jean, an organist and former music teacher at John Wood Infant School in Cannock, received a standing ovation on Sunday night (May 29) following her first bubbly performance of Great Balls of Fire.

The grandmother-of-two is now preparing an even livelier routine for this Saturday's final. Speaking from London, Jean, who hasn't yet started her rehearsals, said she was looking forward to sporting a new specially made sequined jacket.

"It has been an absolute whirlwind, I just can't believe the reactions I am getting from people especially from those back home," she said. "I have spent many happy years teaching and performing in Cannock, but this Saturday's performance is definitely going to be my best yet."

Jean's biggest performance to date was in 2009 when she played for Princess Anne in a concert for war veterans at St James's Palace.

But she is a huge star back in Cannock where she has entertained audiences for many years.

Alison Cox, duty manager at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, said: "Jean always performs to a packed hall; the atmosphere is amazing and by the end of the night the audience are always up on their feet."

"It is very exciting to see her doing so well. She has a huge following here in Cannock so should definitely expect a lot of support."

A regular on the church and charity circuit, Jean is a popular fixture at fundraisers and concerts across Staffordshire.

She has helped raise thousands of pounds by performing in concerts for Soroptimist International. A Cannock branch spokesman said they all had their fingers crossed for her. On October 8 Jean will be making a guest appearance at Chadsmoor Methodist Church, for their centenary celebrations.

Rob Ryder, steward at the church, said: "Music flows through Jean, she is a wonderful musician and I think it's marvellous what she is doing."

"Jean is doing Cannock proud and I am so pleased we are able to say she has supported us on many occasions."

"This will be the icing on the cake for her and she deserves every success."

Journey

Fellow pianist and friend Pat Preece has known Jean since 1977 and said she was as flamboyant in real life as she is on television.

"I am rooting for her to win; none of the other contestants comes close to what she has to offer."

"She deserves every moment of this journey, she has worked so hard and shared her love for music for many years, now it's time for her to really shine."

"I keep watching her on television and I am just so thrilled to see her talents finally being shown to the world."

Jean was also musical director at Cannock Chase Drama Society until 2005.

Lions' help for school

A FUNDRAISING group has chipped in towards a Rugeley school's bid for new play equipment. Rugeley Lions were asked by Redbrook Hayes Community Primary in Brexton, to contribute towards its appeal for a new all ability roundabout to go in the school playground. The equipment is designed so that all children, whatever their physical ability, can use it without having to rely on others to get them on and off, increasing the children's independence. A Lions spokesman said: "The Lions pride themselves on serving their local community and a donation was presented at a recent school assembly with a large cheque made out for £500." This will only go part way to purchasing the roundabout and the school still busy trying to raise the rest of the cash.

Good causes share out cash

GREAT Wyrley Townswomen Guild has handed out £1,200 it has raised over the past year. The money has been split between three charities, all of whom received £400. The money was presented to Shirley Ward from Help the Heroes, to Sharon Wright from Alzheimers Research UK and Warren Appleby from the British Heart Foundation on behalf of the "My Heart in Cannock Appeal" for an Echo Machine for Cannock Hospital. Great Wyrley Townswomen Guild has received an award of its own, being presented with a trophy from South Staffordshire Federation for the most new members who joined last year. The guild currently has 104 members and meetings are held on the second Tuesday in the month at Wyrley Wesley Church, Walsall Road at 7.30pm. At the June meeting, the guild's own choir will be singing, while 19 members are attending the National Conference of Townswomen Guilds at the NIA in Birmingham on June 24.

Cycling trail on awards shortlist

A CANNOCK Chase cycling initiative has reached the semi-finals of The National Lottery Awards 2011. The Chase Trails Cycle Project is to go head to head with other National Lottery-funded projects from across the UK in the semi-finals of the awards which recognise the difference that lottery-funded projects make to local communities.

Chase Trails Cycle Project is one of only 10 projects to make it through in the Best Sport Project category in The National Lottery Awards. Semi-finalists have been shortlisted for the big difference they have made with lottery money, and people in Cannock Chase are being urged to cast a vote to support the local scheme.

The project involved local people in the design, build, maintenance and use of mountain bike trails in Cannock Chase by providing equipment, training and machine hire to get the courses started. Jason Maclean, project manager for the Chase Trails Cycle Project, says: "We're delighted to have reached the semi-finals of The National Lottery Awards." Voting for the semi-finals starts tomorrow and ends at midday on June 20. To vote for Chase Trails Cycle Project call 0844 836 9721 or log on to www.lotterygoodcauses.org.uk/a/wards

Disco night aids charity

A PENKRIDGE DJ is staging an event in aid of the Midlands Air Ambulance. The disco and auction is being held on Saturday, June 11 at Pillaton Farm. Organiser Tim Rowlands said: "This will be the biggest event I've organised. We will be having a marquee for 250 guests with myself DJing." There will also be a hog roast and barbecue. Tickets are £10 from Tim on 07930 501519.

A HEDNESFORD ballroom which opened in 1951 has closed its doors after 60 years of dancing.

The closure of the Aquarius Ballroom last weekend came 12 years after a campaign began to save it - and when the redevelopment of the town centre was first mooted.

Around 400 regulars attended two farewell dances at the Victoria Street venue. A petition of 3,700 names by protesters failed to stop the closure and a new supermarket is due to open on the site.

Fairy lights lined the dance floor, Union Jack bunting hung over the bar and guests resplendent in black ties and long evening gowns were handed buck's fizz as they arrived for the last waltz. Owner Mike Allsopp and his regulars were determined to bow out in style after 60 years of dancing. After a weekend of unadulterated nostalgia - Saturday night's Grand Finale (May 28) was followed by a sell-out Last Waltz on Sunday - the dance hall will be bulldozed to make way for a Tesco.

History

A new community hall, with provision for dancing, will be built nearby as part of the redevelopment but for fans of the old ballroom, a part of the town's and their own history will have vanished forever when it goes.

Reg Bailey, of Watling Street, Brownhills, has attended functions there with wife Jean for the last 35 years. He said: "We used to get big bands back then - Vic Sylvester Junior, Kenny Ball and his Jazzmen, Acker Bilk."

"People would come from Stoke and Birmingham, with the train station just across the road."

Closure of town legion branch

THE Cannock branch of the Royal British Legion has folded after a fall in membership. The town's Royal British Legion Club in Stafford Road had closed last July. Mike Morris, RBL South Staffordshire county secretary, said the branch had disbanded after no one was willing to join the committee to keep it running.

He said the loss of the club, which was maintained by the branch, was a big blow. The building was put on the market last year and is being sold through local agents Andrew Dixon and Company with a guide price of £100,000.

The Financial Services Authority, which is responsible for regulating members' clubs across the UK, recommended the de-registration and closure of the two-storey club - which was no longer self sufficient. The club had been popular for the town's ex-servicemen and hosted a wide range of community events.

The 2,849 sq ft building is said to have potential for redevelopment or use as a bar, pub or restaurant. The Cannock branch had tried to continue despite the closure and Cannock's InShops donated a unit for the legion to use for last year's Poppy Appeal to sell wreaths and poppies.

Mr Morris said former branch member Sheila Dunning, of Cannock Traders' Association had taken over organising the town's annual Remembrance Sunday ceremony.

Sappers set to meet up

THE Cannock branch of the Royal Engineers Association will hold their monthly meeting next Monday (June 6).

It takes place from 8pm at the Ex-servicemen's Club, on Walsall Road.

All Sappers serving or ex-service are invited to attend. Further information is available from the REA Branch Secretary on 01543 423319.

Villages unite for energy open day

TWO villages have joined forces to try to reduce their carbon emissions in a renewable energy project.

Cannock Wood and Gentleshaw Environmental Group held a renewable energy open afternoon last week to attract support for their aims.

Lichfield councillor David Smith and Trevor Stokes, from environmental group Sustainable Staffordshire, attended the event which was supported by Morris Mellett Renewables.

Children took part in recycled arts and crafts and Tony Morris, Cannock Chase Council's recycling and climate change officer, provided a recycling display.

Mr Stokes said it was important that communities worked together become more sustainable.

"We are thrilled that groups such as Cannock Wood & Gentleshaw are now beginning to take responsibility and action over the future of their environment and the ways in which they can all live a greener life as a community."

Fun day to raise cash for nurses

A HAIRDRESSER is hoping her band of car washers will prove to be a cut above the rest at a charity event in Rugeley this Saturday (June 4).

Heather Wheeler, who works at Toni&Guy on Wade Street, Lichfield, has teamed up with The Prince of Wales pub in Church Street to organise a fun day from 10am in support of Macmillan Cancer Support.

The main event will be a charity car wash where some 25 girls and guys will be washing cars in return for a charitable donation, while the pub is also putting on bouncy castles, sumo suits, a barbecue and free samples of a new beer.

Within the main arena on Hagley Park field there will be a stall with a raffle, plant sale and books and cakes, with all proceeds going to Macmillan.

The raffle prize is a haircut at Toni&Guy's Lichfield salon, worth £35.

Heather, aged 19, urged people to come along and support a good cause. She said: "I have had so much amazing support from The Prince of Wales pub, Councillor Mick Groot, the team at Toni&Guy and all the girls and guys getting involved."

"We are pleased to help Macmillan Cancer Support as lots of people across Rugeley are affected by cancer and Macmillan nurses do great work in our hospitals and the community."

Sheila Simpson, Macmillan's Rugeley committee chairperson, added: "Macmillan Cancer Support would like to thank Heather and her team for helping people affected by cancer."

Attempt to beat record

A CHILD MINDER will lead pupils from a Hedgesford school in an attempt to break the Guinness world record for the largest walking bus.

Lynn Evans fronts her own walking school bus every morning but will go for the title at 10am on Wednesday June 15 with children from West Hill Primary School, in Mount Street.

The event, supported by local police and community officers, is being held in support of the Brake road safety charity and will cover 50 metres.

Bower festival a Titanic effort

THE Bank Holiday downpour failed to dampen the spirits of thousands of people who turned out for Lichfield's annual Greenhill Bower celebrations.

Numbers on the streets and in the city's Beacon Park were way down on last year's attendance of 40,000 due to the rain, though the sun did put in an appearance late in the afternoon.

The Bower Queen, 17-year-old Gemma Powell, headed the parade on a float on the theme of the Titanic. She was crowned at the Guildhall by the city's mayor, Councillor Brian Bacon, following the annual Court of Arraye.

Bower committee chairman Michael Mullarkey said the support on the streets was as good as ever and thanked all those who had turned out in the rain to cheer on the floats and bands.

The Green Man's Morris and Sword Club had the honour of leading the procession this year.

Entertainment in the park included boy band Twenty Twenty - who have supported the likes of The Saturdays and JLS - and the Band of the Brigade of Gurkhas. There was also a Scruff's dog show and a fun fair. Extra buses were laid on this year to ferry revellers in to the city from Burntwood, Rugeley and outlying villages.

The Bower festival originates from the 12th Century and the money raised from collections along the parade route goes to help local charities and organisations who help with staging the annual event.

Parts of Beacon Park that have been closed for restoration work were re-opened for the event.

People were also able to enjoy Tropical Inc, an exotic animal live roadshow featuring pygmy hedgehogs and snakes and the MAD mountain bike display and stunt team.

Proceeds will be split between several charities.

Enterprise zone hope gets boost

A BID to establish Cannock Chase as an enterprise zone is being given a boost by MP Aidan Burley.

Following the Budget proposals in March, there are plans to launch 21 enterprise zones across the UK, with the possibility of an 'Enterprise Belt' establishing itself across Staffordshire, which would include a zone for Cannock Chase.

Conservative MP Mr Burley has spoken to local businesses and representatives from Birmingham City Council, key to the Birmingham and Solihull Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP), which is heavily involved in writing up the bid for the zone.

Members of Mr Burley's team have helped shape the bid with their attendance at LEP meetings and he is now planning a meeting for all major parties concerned, in an attempt to propel the application, with the final bid being submitted to the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills.

With the introduction of an enterprise zone into the Cannock district, it would encourage investment with the benefits of tax breaks, reduced planning restrictions and superfast broadband rewarding businesses that launch in the area.

Mr Burley MP said, "It's important that the Cannock element of the 'Enterprise Belt' submission is as strong as possible. "That way if the 'belt' idea is rejected, the Cannock element of it could still be considered on its own merits. "I have long thought that Kingswood Lakeside on Orbital Way would make an excellent Enterprise Zone location, and have offered my assistance to Cannock Chase District Council to work with their officers to make the bid as strong as possible."

'Sexy' MP

AIDAN Burley has been named as one of the most attractive MPs. In a survey by website sexymp.co.uk, he was ranked 15th cutest male MP and lies in 35th place of all politicians.

Timberland team races to victory in Chase challenge

A FUNDRAISING fashion challenge hosted by Cannock Chase Country Park helped raise more than £60,000 to support a poverty-fighting charity.

The Prima Solutions Adventure Challenge, in aid of the development agency, Care International, saw 22 teams cover a marathon distance and collect £63,895.

Each team, made up of representatives from the fashion and retail sector, travelled on foot, bike and canoe amid the forests and hills of Cannock.

The event, now in its sixth year, also included mystery challenges which saw teams earning goods to sell at a market at Shugborough estate, learning Hindi and crossing an obstacle course blindfolded in Anson's Bank. A bonus stage pushed the fastest teams a further eight kilometres on foot through the woods.

Timberland's elite team were the overall winners after completing the challenge and bonus run in five hours, 12 minutes. They were also crowned the highest fundraisers after collecting £28,145. Other groups were rewarded for their team spirit as well as those with the best outfits.

All the money raised will support Care's projects across 87 countries.

Plea as area for games is built

PEOPLE living near a new games area being built in Heath Hayes are calling for action on anti-social behaviour.

Councillor John Bernard presented a petition to Cannock Chase Council from residents in Newlands Park, off Hayes Way.

He said residents felt they were not properly consulted before work on the play and multi-use games area, near Peregrine Way, began.

"There are problems now with youths damaging nearby houses and vehicles by throwing stones," he said.

Residents said when they bought their homes they were told it would be a small play area for ages up to 11.

"What is being built is aimed at older children and teenagers which they didn't expect," he added. "The real anger is that they were not consulted about putting in a games area."

Heath Hayes & Wimblebury parish council is writing to the district to check the site meets original planning consent.

Carewatch campaign

CAREWATCH is launching a campaign to find out what makes people happy and to help with its research, Carewatch is inviting children to enter a picture competition.

The prize is £500 in stationary vouchers for their school or club as well as a £50 voucher prize for themselves.

The free to enter competition closes on July 20 and is open to children aged 4-11.

Details and entry forms can be downloaded from www.carewatch-sws.co.uk or send a stamped, addressed envelope to Carewatch, Cornerstone House, Stafford Park 13, Telford, Shropshire, TF3 3AZ.

Planners decide on waste scheme

THE fate of a fiercely contested plan to build an incinerator on a landfill site in Cannock was to be decided this week.

The proposed incinerator on the Cleveley Road, would burn up to 400,000 tonnes of non-hazardous waste a year and generate 34 megawatts of electricity enough to power 8,000 homes.

Biffa's bid to build the plant has met with opposition by the district council and outlying parishes.

The scheme, which forms part of a £200m expansion project involving the Poplars landfill site, was to be voted on by Staffordshire County Council yesterday (Wednesday).

A report reveals that around 240 journeys by heavy goods vehicles are expected daily at the site, which will be open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Between 80-90 per cent of trips would take place between 6am and 10pm.

The plan is opposed by Cannock Chase District Council. Parish councils including Norton Canes, Cheslyn Hay, Hednesford Town and Bridgtown have also objected.

Improvements bid at 19th century church

A 19TH century Grade II listed church is planning a range of structural improvements - including making the building more "wedding friendly".

Plans have been sent to Cannock Chase Council to extend United Reformed Church, in Stafford Road, Cannock, by 98sqft.

Other proposed changes include making improvements to the churchyard, renovating the boundary wall and creating a drop-off bay for wedding vehicles. Railings will surround a new parking area.

The church's agents J Mason Associates Ltd say the existing building will be retained and extended at first floor level over to create a two-storey element at the rear of the main hall. There will be no change in height to the building, which was built in 1824, but the rundown porch area will be replaced with a glazed frontage.

There is currently no vehicular access with only a pedestrian gate from Stafford Road into the site.

The pedestrian gate will be moved back into the site to allow for the new vehicle dropping-off point.

J Mason Ltd's supporting documentation says the changes will help with the future regeneration of the town.

A report sent to the council says: "The sympathetic re-use restoration and enhancement of this nationally important historic building will help to ensure its continued preservation and contribution toward's Cannock's local distinctive character. "The proposals will also help to strengthen the historic character and the quality of the wider townscape and conservation area as well as contributing towards the sustainable regeneration of Cannock for the benefit of the local community."

Churchyard improvements include the removal and replacement of sycamore trees, and renovation of the wall. Trees at the southern boundary alongside South Staffs College's Cannock Campus will be protected and retained.

A J Mason Associates spokesman said it was too early to say how much the work would cost.

New hall is supported

RESIDENTS in Huntington have backed the idea of a new village hall.

Parish councillors are now likely to pursue the idea saying the existing hall is outdated and no longer fit for purpose.

During a discussion at a recent meeting, councillors revealed 574 responses from a public consultation exercise were received, with 57 per cent in favour of a new hall.

Changes in line at primary

A HEDNESFORD school has proposed a range of structural changes, including an extension and a revised reception and nursery area, to bring the building up to date and make it safer for pupils.

St Joseph's Catholic Primary School, in Hill Top, also wants to create new classrooms and toilets.

In a supporting report sent to the council, the school says the old nursery building is in "very poor condition".

It says the nursery classroom will be demolished and transferred to a new unit next to the reception classroom, while the school will re-open an old access route for cars and make the current driveway pedestrianised.

A new entrance area will be added, which will incorporate disabled access, along with a staff and visitor car park which aims to provide safer access for visitors to the school.

The entrance area will also incorporate a new administration block and meeting room.

Older children will also have access to more playground space.

Pop Idol winner in school visit

Finnish pupils Mervi Rajala, Markus Ala-Ketwri, Jerome Matomaki and Miska Kivimaki (all aged 12), with Churchfield Primary School pupils Jodie Averis (11), Dylan Kent (10), Phoebe Harris (11) and Marty Doherty (11) and with Finnish Pop Idol winner Koop Arponen

A POP star from Finland visited schools in Staffordshire as part of a documentary he is making about the cultural differences between his country and the UK.

Singer-song writer Koop Arponen, the winner of the 2008 series of Idols - Finnish television's equivalent of Pop Idol, travelled to the country with eight Finnish children from the rural town of Pihlajavesi.

The group visited St Michael's Church of England Primary School in Lichfield, and Churchfield Primary in Rugeley, to see how the British school system works.

Linda Hack, headteacher of Churchfield, said: "It is an exciting opportunity for the children to learn about each other and to form friendships."

Koop spent his childhood in the UK and returned to Finland at 19. He later studied at Hull University.

After graduating in 2008 he followed a music career, winning Idols and releasing two albums.

Bishop to help mark 50th year milestone

THE Bishop of Lichfield is visiting a Cannock church as part of its 50th anniversary celebrations.

The Rt Rev Jonathan Gledhill will be at St Barnabas Church in Hampton Street, Mosswood, on Sunday, June 12, to preach at a celebration service.

Celebrations began on Friday, June 10 with a concert at 7pm featuring Chadsmoor Choral Society. The following day there will be children's activities and a musical performance by Chase Day Care Drama Group at 7pm. The church is also staging a three-day exhibition on the history of the area.

It's party time as club hits 100

A RUGELEY working men's club celebrates its 100th birthday with a party tomorrow night (Friday).

The party at Rugeley Progressive Working Men's Club, in Market Street, will begin at 6.30pm - the time the club was officially opened on June 9 1911.

The evening's entertainment will include a northern soul disco. Club president Geoff Brown said: "On Thursday, May 18, 1911, a group of working men assembled at a house in Arch Street, and decided to start a club."

"Mr J Wallbank, who owned property in the town and had a vacant property at 5 Anson Street, allowed the group under the chairmanship of Mr W Edwards to rent this property."

"The brewers John Davenport & Sons of Birmingham were approached and agreed to finance the club, and fit it out."

In 1921 the Bees Lane Club was officially opened, eventually closing in the early 1980s. In 1950, with growing membership, the Mansfield House site was purchased and was opened in November 1951.

Walking record attempt

A HEDNESFORD childminder is organising a group of children to take part in a world record "walking bus" challenge.

Across the country on Wednesday, June 15 there is an attempt to have the world's biggest walking bus in aid of road safety charity Brake.

Lynn Evans is organising an attempt by a group of children she looks after, together with their friends from West Hill Primary School.

Lynn, of Station Road, said around 60 youngsters would be joining in the walk at 10am.

Ale festival

A RAWNSLEY pub and restaurant is holding its annual beer festival from tomorrow (Friday). More than 24 real ales from all over the country will be available to sample at the Rag in Ironstone Road, until Sunday (June 5).

Endeavour prize rewards teen student for living with disease

A CANNOCK teenager has been recognised for her struggle to live with a rare disease by being presented with an endeavour award. Sharnee Ray Coleman, a 15-year-old pupil at Cannock Chase High School, aged 15, won Cannock Chase Council's Youth Endeavour Award for 2010/11.

She was among dozens of young people who were nominated for the award, which aims to recognise the achievements of 11 to 18-year-olds across the district. Sharnee was nominated by Jo McCue, one of her teachers, for her determination and courage in living with Crohn's disease, an inflammatory intestines condition.

Sharnee received a certificate, trophy and £50 from the outgoing chairman of Cannock Chase Council, Councillor Gordon Alcott, at a meeting of Full Council last Wednesday (May 25). Councillor

Alcott said: "In spite of her diagnosis and having to spend a great deal of time in and out of hospital, Sharnee refuses to give in to the disease."

"She attends school as often as she can and, despite missing two years of her education, Sharnee is progressing well with her GCSEs. It was a pleasure to meet Sharnee and to present her with the award. She was an extremely worthy winner."

Revised plan for housing estate

DEVELOPERS behind a scheme to build 44 homes on the site of the former Huntington Primary School have applied to vary the plans. The new estate will be split into two sections, straddling Stafford Road, comprising 44 homes on the old school site on the eastern side of the road, with 21 on the west.

Builders Taylor Wimpey originally intended to build an access road and a new mini-roundabout at the junction with Ash View. Now an application has been received by South Staffs District Council to remove the roundabout as it would no longer be needed.

The site has been vacant since the opening of Littleton Green Primary.

A previous scheme for 24 houses for the western half was rejected in July amid traffic concerns.

There will be a mix of detached and terraced houses, as well as six two bedroom flats.

South Staffs regulatory committee was being recommended to approve the revised scheme ahead of a meeting this week.

Former PoW among previous owners at tycoon's lodge

Businessman's home is up for sale at a cool £3m

THE luxurious home of Cannock property tycoon Fred Pritchard is on the market for £3million.

Mr Pritchard and his wife Pat have lived at the lodge on the outskirts of the pretty village of Brocton on the edge of Cannock Chase for the last 20 years. The Georgian lodge, which was originally a farm house forming part of the Brocton Hall estate, dates from the 17th Century and was originally owned by the Chetwynd family.

A former inmate of Colditz is among the former owners of Brocton Lodge. Lieutenant-Colonel Guy German was the senior British officer in the Second World War German PoW camp in 1941 and 1942 and made two unsuccessful attempts to escape.

Other owners over the years have included Zulu War hero and Victoria Cross winner General Sir Redvers Buller.

Mr Pritchard, who has a fortune of more than £70 million says he was attracted by the "magnificent views" from the two-storey mansion. It houses some of his collection of items related to one of his heroes Horatio Nelson. The 68-year-old chairman of the Pritchard Group and president of Cannock Chase Chamber of Commerce, is also a big fan of James Bond movies and has a collection of cars including Aston Martins driven by 007.

Brocton Lodge, which stands in 10 acres of grounds, is being sold through agents Savills Telford on 01952 239517.

It also includes a four-bedroom coach house, formerly stables and carriage house, and a three-bedroom cottage backing on to the lodge's courtyard with views overlooking the Chase.

The property comprises four principal reception rooms off the hall and the original 19th Century ballroom has been converted into a drawing room and dining room.

Other ground floor rooms include a study, garden room and sitting room. There are also former servants' quarters which could be integrated into the main house or used as an annexe.

The lodge boasts eight bedrooms including five principal ones. One of the original stables has been converted to house a wave pool, sauna and shower and it opens on to a sheltered paved seating area.

The grounds include sweeping lawns and many mature trees including oak, beech and ash.

There is also garaging for five cars and the property also has its own petrol pump. Mr Pritchard, aged 68, said: "Brocton Lodge has given us everything we needed in a house."

"We have loved living here and have never tired of the views."

Garden festival day out

WOLSELEY Bridge Garden Centre is arranging a trip to Arley Garden Festival at Arley Hall and Gardens on June 26.

The trip will be led by a member of the garden centre's horticultural team.

Ian Byrne, manager of the centre at Rugeley Bridge, near Rugeley, said: "The festival shows off the hall's amazing floral marquee and plant nurseries."

The coach will leave Wolseley Bridge Garden Centre at 9.30am and will return at 5.30pm. Tickets are £25 and available from the centre.

Open day

A CANNOCK school is holding an open day for prospective students. Chase Academy, on St John's Road, opens its doors from 11am-3pm on Saturday, June 11. For a prospectus or further details call the school on 01543 501800.

Handouts for British Legion

THE outgoing chairman of Cannock Chase Council raised more than £2,500 for local branches of the Royal British Legion during his year in office.

Councillor Gordon Alcott, whose ward is Cannock North, chose the RBL as his civic charity for his term as chairman during 2010-2011.

The £2,684 that was raised is being split equally between the Rugeley, Hednesford and Norton Canes branches of the legion.

Councillor Alcott said it had been "a pleasure and honour" to represent the council and people of the district.

"I will look back on the year with a great deal of pride," he added.

Councillor Alcott has been succeeded by Tory councillor John Beddows who represents Norton Canes.

Hoard find inspires bounty hunters

BURNTWOOD treasure hunter Terry Herbert has inspired a number of amateur archaeologists since discovering the Staffordshire Hoard.

Latest figures recorded by the Portable Antiquities Scheme - managed by the British Museum - recorded in 2010, up more than a third on 2009.

The increase comes after metal detecting enthusiast Mr Herbert unearthed thousands of Anglo-Saxon gold and silver items.

He found 3,700 artefacts while searching a farmer's field in Hammerwich in 2009.

It was the largest and most valuable haul from the period in history.

The treasure comprises exquisitely designed sword pommels, helmet fragments and several jewelled crosses and was valued at £3.3m, which was split between Mr Herbert and landowner Fred Johnson.

The Hoard is now on permanent display at Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery and the Potteries Museum and Art Gallery, in Stoke-on-Trent.

Hobby

Mr Herbert said: "What I found was just remarkable. I can understand why people are going out and buying metal detectors and heading out there to see what has been left in the ground.

"It's a fantastic hobby and I think people are starting to realise what is out there to find."

Meanwhile, South Staffs Coroner Andrew Haigh has ruled that a gold piece of a necklace found in Brewwood by fortune hunters is treasure.

A gold ornate fitting that was found on land in the village by a couple from Brownhills was sent to the British Museum. It found the small item, which they believe to have been part of a jewelled necklace, was around 2,000 years old.

Mr Haigh said the piece, found by David Ellis and his wife in August last year, had been reported to him in September.

The British Museum's archaeological finds officer Tom Brindle told the inquest in Cannock last Thursday (May 26) that an expert identified it as a small link from a gold necklace.

It was dated between the first to third century AD, measuring between 17 to 9.9mm and weighing 0.5 grams.

The Potteries Museum and Art Gallery has expressed an interest in the piece, which will be valued by the British Museum.

Inquiry paves way for road to be allowed

Final hurdle for businessman in stables dispute

Neighbour Deborah Vine

A MILLIONAIRE who had a road built without planning permission has been told he can keep it following a public inquiry.

However, Tony Wright still faces a battle to keep the riding centre it leads to.

Mr Wright, the boss of Cannock-based Halsall

Electrical, was yesterday (Wednesday) due to appear before the Planning Inspectorate.

He built the road and the stables in Penkridge, including space for 14 horses, without planning permission. The complex is next door to the £500,000 home of Levedale Road resident Deborah Vine.

Mrs Vine, who lives with her two teenage children, has claimed the stables and traffic it brings are threatening her idyllic rural life.

But a public inquiry has now granted the road a certificate of lawfulness.

A final decision on the stables will be made by the Government's Planning Inspectorate following the June 1 hearing at South Staffordshire Council.

Built

Planning laws currently state that a road can be issued with a certificate of lawfulness if it was built four years ago or more.

Mrs Vine claims the road had not been built before January 2009, but Mr Wright had maintained it was constructed in June 2006.

Andy Johnson, director of planning and strategic services at the council said: "We felt that, on the balance of probability, the road was built more than four years ago."

Mr Wright did not comment on the decision but Mrs Vine has said she will appeal if she can.

She said: "I have a picture taken on January 31, 2009, and there was no road."

The stable block built without permission by businessman Tony Wright

I WOULD like to thank all the residents of Hednesford who voted for me as a parish councillor in the local elections. And I thank the council for voting me as chairman again. It has been a privilege to

Looking forward to representing town

I WOULD like to thank the residents of the Western Spring's ward Rugeley that voted for me in the recent local elections.

It is a great honour and I am looking forward to representing the people of Rugeley over the next four years. I would also like to thank all the people who helped me with the delivering of my leaflets, and for their support leading up to the elections.

Unit 13 has been a boom to village

AFTER reading the letter from Sheila Harding in The Chronicle of May 19: 'Proud of a village that always pulls out stops' I was so pleased to read that Sheila is now on our parish council.

And she has reason to be proud of Norton Canes for she has been a part of its growth over the years.

But I hope that as well as those areas that she has mentioned in her letter that she is also proud of what happens in Unit 13.

Through the youth club that runs on Monday evening for 40 plus 11-16-year-old youths, the problems caused by youths walking the streets looking for trouble has eased. And on Tuesday we have 30 plus children under 11 years of age attending.

But one great success is our exercise class for the over 55-year-olds. Since beginning we have trebled in size and are now beginning a second class for beginners.

This class helps people to cope with those ageing problems such as mobility and stamina; also it helps stroke victims to get their movement returned. Unit 13 has been a boom to the village.

As it is a factory unit it is well away from housing so it does not cause problems with noise. Anyone wishing to hire the unit or wants any information concerning the activities that take place there can phone me on 01543 450873.

IN SPITE of rumours going around, I can assure everybody that the Bridge Cross WMC is still alive and entertaining.

Auctions take place every Tuesday night, viewing 6pm, start 7pm. Sunday both friends and neighbours are still enjoying live entertainment. The first Friday in the month it is Soul and Motown.

With a big thank you to Peter for work put in for the successful Royal Wedding celebrations. Bridge Cross was certainly the place to be.

An excellent venue with friendly staff. Many thanks for the prize.

No shortage of skills, but lack of funds

I READ a front page story in the Staffordshire Newsletter: 'Hospital Jobs Fix-it' with horror, and thought it should be brought to the attention of Cannock people.

How dare Stafford's MP suggest that it is right for 75 foreign workers to be drafted in to fix a staffing crisis at Stafford Hospital?

The NHS has spent time, effort and lots of money training up NHS staff in a wide range of skills. Many of these have now been laid off due to the funding shortage created by the Government.

There are reports almost daily of job cuts, ward closures, qualified nurses ratio on wards being reduced, childcare specialists and midwife shortages, as skilled people are sacked.

We do not have a skills shortage. What we do have is the lack of funding to pay for them.

When people complain about the level of care they receive from Stafford Hospital, I hope they take into consideration how few people there are still employed to provide that care.

They are dreadfully overstretched, but the skills are still there, waiting for a chance to be used again. Lets give our fully trained staff their own jobs back, before we 'import' other people in their place.

Election was beginning, now the real work starts

I WOULD like to take this opportunity to thank the electorate of Norton Canes for voting in this year's local election.

I was honoured to have been elected as your Labour Councillor. Every vote was vital and I'm grateful to everyone who supported me at the polls.

My job, however, is to represent everyone living in the ward, whether they voted or not, or indeed, if they are not able to vote. I know that together we can make our area a better place to live.

My pledge to the residents of Norton Canes is that I will do my very best to represent you and support you and to fight for Norton Canes and for its improvement. As your local councillor, I'm always available to deal with your problems and concerns. If you think I can help, please get in touch by phone 01543 279475 or by e-mail mike\_holder\_uk@yahoo.com

This election was just the beginning. The real work starts now. I look forward to serving as your local representative, to sticking up for Norton Canes and to standing with my Labour colleagues in the pursuit of a brighter future for Cannock Chase in general and Norton Canes in particular.

Former Page 3 model Jakki will be one of four local DJs who will be playing one-hour house and techno music sets.

She will also be signing autographs and have photographs taken with those attending. Tickets are £5 in advance or £6 on the door. They are available from Wickes Building Supplies, Lichfield Road, Cannock.
Proceeds from the night will be split between the charities.

PENKRIDGE Parish Council chairman Pet Hughes has taken on the role again. Councillor John McPheat will continue as vice-chairman.
Three new councillors, Sandie Morris, Shaun Flynn and Calvert Stonehouse have all received their badges of office.

Firm among winners at apprentice awards

A CANNOCK-based caterpillar and general equipment dealer was among the eight winners at this year's West Midlands regional heat of the National Apprenticeship Awards.

Finning UK picked up a top accolade in the awards ceremony held at Ironbridge Museum's Ingenuity site. The firm was named as winner of the BAE Systems Award for Large Employer of the Year. Finning UK currently employs 1,550 people including 68 apprentices, training across 10 frameworks.

Finning is the world's largest caterpillar heavy and general equipment dealer and a leading provider of power energy systems to marine, power generation and industrial customers.

Finning's training academy has received an outstanding Ofsted grade, "demonstrating an impressive and proactive approach to continuous development, quality improvement and sharing of good practice," said award judges.

Also among the winners was Joshua Brown, from Essington who won the EDI award for Apprentice of the Year.

Joshua began his apprenticeship in March last year working at Essington Fruit Farm and has successfully completed an NVQ in Food Manufacture Retail Butchery and a Level 2 award in Principles of Working in Food Manufacture, with the support of his learning provider, Telford College of Arts and Technology.

Bacon

He currently works in a small team preparing cuts of meat for cooking, making various flavoured sausages, dry cured bacon and award-winning pork pies.

Organised by the National Apprenticeship Service (NAS) the awards are designed to celebrate the achievements of apprentices and the businesses that employ them.

All the winners will represent the West Midlands in the National Apprenticeship Awards in London on June 29.

REMEMBER THE DAYS OF THE OLD SCHOOL YARD

The school football team dating back to 1977

FORMER staff and pupils can reminisce about the old school days in Hednesford next month.

An exhibition of old pictures, including ones of old sports teams and lessons, will be on display at the reunion and open day at Kingsmead Technology College, in Kings Avenue, on Saturday, July 9.

It is open to all former teaching staff, pupils, governors and all other employees that were connected with the school from its inception in 1938 through to 1979.

The school, now home to around 1,300 students, was opened as Littleworth Girls and Littleworth Boys School on September 5 1938. During World War II, the school accommodated children who had been evacuated.

The school was amalgamated to become Littleworth Secondary Modern on January 8 1963 and became a comprehensive in September 1973. Later renamed to Kingsmead High, it changed to Kingsmead Technology College when it became a specialist school in 2002.

The reunion takes place from 10am until 1pm. Current deputy head Matt Allman said as well as a photographic display, there would be a tour of the building and a display of current pupils' work. Refreshments will be available and visitors will be able to buy copies of old photos, together with school magazines, publications and other historic documents.

Mr Allman said: "It's a way of getting everyone together and seeing how schooldays have changed over the years."

"We hope to stage further events - open to all ex-Kingsmead students, whatever their years at the school - and hope this event will be the start of many to come, both at the school and in the community at large."

Facebook

He added there was already vast interest in the event, and the advent of social networking meant old friends could be kept informed, with many invitations and replies being sent out via Facebook and Friends Reunited.

Anyone who is interested in attending should express their interest by contacting the college on 01543 512455 or by emailing friendsofKingsmead@Kingsmead.staffs.ac.uk

The school is also appealing for anyone who may have old photographs to go on display. Further details are available on the college website, www.ktconline.org.uk

The Universal appeal of fine dining at bank

The bank bar and lounge, in Wolverhampton Road

bank bar owner Alastair Payne and chef Alistair Campbell

YOU would think that having worked with Britpop legends Blur that There's No Other Way to make a living.

However, Alastair Payne, who was the band's merchandising manager during their 90s heyday, moved into the catering game and hasn't looked back.

After a spell at Italian restaurant Dorcia in High Green, Cannock, Alastair took over at the Forge Bar, in Wolverhampton Road, before later becoming owner of the bank bar and lounge just a few doors away.

When Alastair is not running the bar he's running somewhere else. The 44-year-old has completed several marathons and his latest challenge will see him running 145 miles along the towpath of the Grand Union Canal. He will be joined by friend Dave Hicks for the trek on July 25-26 from Birmingham to London in aid of St Giles Hospice.

Chunky

The bank's bar is comfortable, plush and spacious. Food is served from 11am to 8pm, with a separate menu for lunchtimes, all at reasonable prices, all freshly cooked – and with many dishes I hadn't come across elsewhere.

Starters on the evening menu include soup, salmon and prawn fishcake, and breaded mushrooms with feta.

My partner and I opted for tempura combo, which for two sharing costs just £6.95. For one person, this mixture of chicken, beef, prawns and vegetables, coated in a light tempura batter and served with three dips, may have been enough for a single course.

Main course options include roasted vegetable lasagne, crispy Italian salmon, homemade stew, mushroom wellington, slow roast belly pork and rack of lamb.

Despite those temptations, I opted for the smoked fish carbonara, which came with bacon and was served with toasted ciabatta, while Sharon chose BBQ chicken melt – a whole chicken breast grilled and topped with ham, barbecue sauce and cheese and served with chunky chips and salad.

While the food sounds top quality, it tasted exactly that, but at affordable prices.

There are also daily specials and a children's menu.

Alastair is expanding with the launch of the bank vault, which will see live music performed. The area is launched next Friday (June 10).

Call the bank bar and lounge for more information on 01543 509251.

Pet put down after attack with air rifle Family is hit by shots at two cats in a week

TWO pet cats belonging to the same family were shot with air rifles in the space of a week.

One of Sarah Rawles' pets was put down after it was hit in the leg with a pellet and the other was left with a pellet lodged in its side.

Sarah said 18-month-old ginger and white tom JJ came home with a badly injured leg and got back in via the cat flap.

"He slept on my bed and I didn't realise anything was wrong until my daughter noticed he was bleeding on the Friday morning. We took him straight to the vets."

She added: "His leg was paralysed and the vet gave him painkillers and anti-inflammatories. I took him back again on Friday night and Saturday morning, but when the vet found the pellet had severed nerves in his leg and he could no longer go to the toilet we decided it was kinder to have him put to sleep," said 42-year-old Sarah, of Cedar Close, Chasetown.

Adopted

The mother-of-two, who volunteers with Burntwood branch of the Cats Protection League, said her daughter Nicola, aged 15, and son Daniel, 10, were devastated by the loss of JJ, who the family adopted from the wild as a five-week old kitten.

The family have seven other cats and the oldest Misty, 15, was also shot. "She is a black cat and we didn't realise at first that she had been injured," said Sarah. "It was only when I found blood on the bed that I checked her. The vet said it was safest to leave the pellet in."

Single mother Sarah said a couple of nights before JJ was shot she heard someone fire a gun at the back of their home. She said: "I would love to see whoever has shot our cats caught. It is not acceptable that someone is going around shooting people's beloved pets. To a family like mine the cats are more than just pets."

The shootings have been reported to the RSPCA and inspector Penny Baker is investigating. Anyone with information is asked to call the charity on 0300 123 4999.

Elmore has Lotto fun as mascot

A 12-YEAR-OLD boy has won a competition to name the mascot for the Rugeley Lotto.

Connor Pritchard, won £50 after deciding the mascot should be called Elmore. The winning name was chosen by the town's market co-ordinator, Tony Duckmanton.

He said: "The name was perfect as Elmore is an old Rugeley and is well deserved."

Lotto co-ordinator Pat Hancock said: "We are delighted to have such an historic name with close links to Rugeley."

"We had over 50 entries for the competition but this name just stood out from the rest."

Solstice Walk to aid hospice

A CHESLYN Hay woman who was given the chance to spend time with her dying mother is to thank the hospice who helped her by taking part in a sponsored walk.

Louise Millward will join the St Giles Hospice Solstice Walk next month to thank staff for looking after her mum Denise Aston who died last year.

The 32-year-old, who is married to Andy, said: "With mum it happened very quickly - she was discharged from hospital and deteriorated very quickly."

"Fortunately, we were able to get mum a bed at St Giles Hospice and that meant she was so much more comfortable during her final days."

"The nursing there is just amazing - I can't stress enough how fantastic the people were."

The women-only walk through Lichfield is on June 18, starting at 10pm. The deadline to join is June 10, and every penny raised will go towards the hospice. Entry is £15 each.

To register, log on to the St Giles Hospice website at www.stgileshospice.com/solsticewalk or call the St Giles Fundraising Office on 01543 432538.

Leader's vow on improving run-down flats

CANNOCK Chase Council's new Labour leader has pledged that rundown council flats on a town estate will be improved.

Councillor George Adamson described the state of homes at Moss Road, Chadsmoor, as "dreadful" and added he was "ashamed" to be a member of the council.

He told last week's annual council meeting that the new Labour administration planned to improve them, but said the money was not available in this year's budget, which had been inherited from the former Liberal Democrat controlling group.

"We are giving an instruction to the housing department as a matter of urgency to make improvements to the estate. It can't start until April next year due to the financial constraints," he said.

Councillor Adamson said the age limit on grass cutting for elderly tenants was being reduced to 70, enabling another 650 to benefit from August 1.

Labour has returned to power in the district after nine years and Councillor Adamson said his party would work for the benefit of the whole district.

"The times are tough and we are facing the most severe cuts in 30 years, but this administration will fight to maintain services and improve them if we can," he added.

2011 Year of the Bible

DID YOU KNOW

That 'CHRISTENING' is not mentioned in the Bible?

BUT baptism is mentioned. Baptism is a Greek work which means to 'immerse' and was used in the dyeing industry when cloth was immersed or baptised, in the dye. There is no record in the Bible of a baby being baptised, only people who were able to understand what baptism means. Mark chapter 16 verse 16 says: "He who believes and is baptised will be saved; but he who does not believe will be condemned." Ask yourself! Can babies understand and believe that Jesus can save them?

Petrol station in line for overhaul

thechronicle

Work of carers in spotlight

A RUGELEY church hall is among the venues as the needs of carers is highlighted across Staffordshire.

A number of pampering and craft-making events, part of a national celebration of the work of carers, will be staged between June 13 to 19.

Among the activities lined up are a drop-in on Monday, June 13 at St Michael's Church Hall in Brereton, between 10am and 1pm where there will be jewellery making and hand massage.

Carers are also invited to the Burntwood Alzheimer Cafe's third anniversary party on June 16 from noon-2pm.

A BUSY petrol station has lodged plans for an overhaul to improve traffic flowing through the site.

The Shell garage at Longford island has submitted the plans to Cannock Chase District Council.

The filling station often has a queue of traffic waiting to get on. It has a four-pump forecourt without passing lanes.

The new plans include room for vehicles to get around the pumps and three parking spaces for customers using the shop. Under the plans, there would be eight dispensing pumps with a separate area, as there is now, for heavy goods vehicles.

Shell bosses say the changes will improve the flow of traffic. A report to the council says: "In addition, the forecourt will have a reverse flow which enables motorists to exit on to Watling Street and to Avon Road."

All the pumps will be "multi-product" allowing motorists to use any of the terminals, rather than find the correct one.

If the plans go ahead, the shop will increase from 245 sq ft to 534 sq ft.

New tanks to prevent ground contamination will be capable of holding 70,000 litres of fuel.

There would be no changes to the existing access from Watling Street, but there will be alterations to allow access on to Avon Road.

Declined

Shell's planning and design access statement says the forecourt needs to be reconfigured and improved. It adds the garage shop is dated and is in need of modernisation.

According to an additional report sent to the council, the number of service stations declined by 35 per cent nationally in the past 10 years.

But in that time, the number of vehicles on the road went up by 20 per cent.

'Au revoir' to pupils from French tutor

Pupils Steven Groves, Imogen Clark and Ben Luke Jeavons (all aged nine) say "au revoir" to visiting French tutor Ludvine Loir at Bridgtown Primary PUPILS said "au revoir" to their French tutor as she gets set to return home.

Ludvine Loir has been paying weekly visits to Bridgtown Primary since October to help the youngsters brush up on their language skills.

Ludvine, taking a gap year from her studies at university in Paris, organised the trip through Cannock Chase High School to help the pupils improve their French and for her to improve her English.

Last week was her last lesson before she returns to Paris.

Amanda Beard, Bridgtown language co-ordinator, said: "We held a party for her to say goodbye, and the children even gave a presentation to her, with parts of it in French, which was lovely."

Phone mast plan at cricket pitch debated

CONTROVERSIAL plans for a 50ft mobile phone mast at Cannock and Rugeley's Cricket Club ground were set to be decided by council planning chiefs this week.

Nearly 100 residents living near the site, in Littleworth Road, have signed a petition saying the mast, which would serve Vodafone and O2, would have a detrimental impact on their day-to-day lives.

Twelve letters of objection have also been sent to Cannock Chase Council. More than half of the petitioners are Cannock & Rugeley members or players.

The Chronicle first revealed the plans last month and mother-of-two, Joanne Civil, who set up the petition after realising the mast would stand just 200 metres from her Littleworth Road home said: "Those who live round here are very concerned at the huge risks that come with a mast of this size."

Concerns include worries about adverse impacts on people's health, infringement on green belt land, visual pollution, and negative effects on property value.

Green belt

The applicants, who go under the name of Cornerstone, say the application is needed for 3G coverage in the Hednesford area.

If given the go-ahead the mast would be sited on a rectangular piece of land, measuring 19ft by 23ft, at the southern boundary of the cricket ground in a gap.

Cannock Chase Council's planning meeting was discussing the application yesterday (Wednesday) with officers recommending refusal. A pre-meeting report said the mast would be inappropriate for designated green belt land.

It says: "Inappropriate development by definition is harmful to the green belt, unless it can be demonstrated that very special circumstances exist which outweigh the harm."

"The applicants have failed to provide any very special circumstances, which outweigh the harm of the proposed development."

The report adds that the application site forms part of an established cricket ground. "The proposed development would comprise a tall and substantial man-made structure in a prominent location, which would appear incongruous and strident to the detriment of the visual amenity of the area, the amenity of neighbours and the users of the cricket ground and its associated facilities."

Players on the oche as world darts champ 'Wolfie' drops in

PUNTERS packed out a Hednesford pub to welcome darts world champion Martin Adams.

Regulars at the Globe pub stepped up to the oche to challenge Adams, who is ranked number one in the British Darts Organisation (BDO).

'Wolfie', aged 54, has played professionally for 29 years and also won the world title in 2007 and 2010.

He took on 14 different players at the East Cannock Road pub.

One of them was Lee Maybury, 39, of Matlock Drive in Cannock, whose wife Fiona, 36, won him tickets in a raffle to play the darts legend.

Mr Maybury said: "It was fantastic to be able to play him. Obviously I didn't win but he is a darts champion."

'Wolfie' said: "It's great to be here and take part in something like this. I've been impressed with the punters who I've played against."

"My words to anyone wanting to improve would be to just keep practising."

In darts there are two associations - the British Darts Organisation and the Professional Darts Corporation.

Dishing out the treatment

A CHARITY Reiki-athon is being organised by Natural Healings in Cannock to celebrate their four years of business.

It takes place on Saturday (June 4) from 10am to 4.30pm. Six practitioners will dish out 20 minute treatments at their site in Kingston Court, Walsall Road.

Proceeds will support the work carried out by the charity Macmillan Cancer Support.

No booking is required on the day and treatments will cost £3 on a chair and £5 on a sofa. For more information, log on to www.natural-healings.moonfruit.com

Coals on carpet led to fatal blaze

A PENSIONER who died in a house fire is thought to have tried to put out the flames before being overcome by smoke and fumes, an inquest heard.

Charles Parmenter died in December after the fire broke out in the living room of his bungalow in Heath Street, Hednesford. It was caused when hot coals fell on the carpet.

The inquest in Cannock heard how the 90-year-old had just days earlier had a similar incident which he told concerned neighbours about, and had even cut away parts of the carpet and rug which had been damaged when the coals burned them.

However, despite him trying to extinguish the fire with water from a kettle, fire investigators believe this sudden cooling of the coals caused a small 'explosion' that spread them across the room, causing three separate fires. A post mortem found that he had died from inhaling smoke and fumes.

When firefighters had arrived at the house and searched the property, Mr Parmenter was found dead in his chair by the open fire, and could not be resuscitated, the inquest was told.

A neighbour had alerted the emergency services to the blaze and fire investigator Martin Hyett commended him, along with other neighbours, Michael and Cynthia Tallent, who had looked after the pensioner as he did not have any family members.

A kettle was found under the chair, which is believed to have been used to pour water onto the fires when the coals fell onto the carpet.

But Mr Hyett said this had an "explosive effect". He also said Mr Parmenter may have either been overcome by the fumes so sat down, or may have believed the fire to have been put out.

South Staffordshire Coroner Andrew Haigh recorded a verdict of accidental death.

Pupils get ahead in fundraising stakes

Georgia Chatwood and Josh Bancroft (both 11) with pupils aged four to five in their themed hats

MAKING money was the name of the game when pupils at a Cannock school held an enterprise day. All the cash raised by the youngsters at St Luke's Primary will go to a deserving cause.

Robert Thompson from Christian Aid visited the New Penkridge Road school to talk about the support it provides to the world's poorest countries. School councillors embraced the cause and organised groups from each class to come up with ideas for fundraising, providing a small amount of cash from their own school account to start the ball rolling.

Some pupils made cakes, others created hats and a raffle was also held. Head Jane Roberts said: "Children at St Luke's want to help others. It is part of our school ethos."

Aaron skates off with top awards

Aaron Jepson with the GBHI under-12s 2011 Champion trophy

A CHESLYN Hay lad has put his skates on to land a number of top ice hockey awards.

Aaron Jepson first became interested in the sport when he watched it on the TV during the 2006 Winter Olympics. Since then he has gone on to compete for many different clubs and has established himself as a future prospect for the English national team.

The young talent has played for Telford Venom Junior ice hockey team, where for last season he was captain of the Under 10s side and was recently named Most Valuable Forward for 2011. He has also competed for the Khaos Roller Hockey Team, having recently become Central league Under 12 Champions for the season.

After some encouraging performances, Aaron aged 10, was invited to a trial for Under 11s Midlands Conference team, which is made up of 17 selected players.

Trials began last September and continued through to January, where he was chosen as a forward in the team.

After a few months of training, including a trip to Holland, allowing Aaron to compete against young hotshots from Europe, he was ready for the national finals over the May Day Bank Holiday weekend.

A prestigious event in the junior hockey calendar, allowing scouts to assess upcoming talent at Under 11s level, the nationals consist of teams from Scotland, the north, south east and south west England as well as the Midlands.

Proud

This year teams gathered in Hull for the Annual Junior Inter-Conference Tournament, where the Midlands team went through their matches unbeaten, lifting the trophy for the first time in five years.

Aaron's mother Karen said: "Aaron was so proud to be part of this winning team along with his team mates and they have all showed that their hard work has paid off."

Dad Neil added: "We are extremely proud of him, he has done so well."

"He is just like a normal lad, he has tried other sports like football, but ice hockey sparked him off and he has taken to it so naturally."

Aaron has been selected to play Conference for the Central region for GBHI, the Inline roller hockey conference team and will be off to represent the region in Dundee in June.

Meeting of association

MEMBERS of the Staffordshire Regimental Association will gather for their latest meeting this weekend.

Meetings are held on the first Sunday of every month, with the next taking place on June 5 at the Soldiers Club, in Anglesey Street, Hednesford, from 10.30am.

All former Staffs soldiers and current Mercians are invited along. More details are available from the branch secretary on 01543 425800.

School prize

PENKRIDGE Middle School has won Healthy Schools status as well as its anti-bully badge. It will celebrate next Thursday (June 9).

Pitmen's Ashley now joins the Premiership

A FORMER Hednesford Town footballer is celebrating his entry to the Premier League after gunning his way through the play-off final.

Ashley Williams is a Swansea City and Welsh International footballer, but has not forgotten his roots on the way to the big time, which he secured on Monday.

Hednesford Town club secretary Terry McMahon has personally known Ashley since he was 15 and a youth player at West Bromwich Albion FC Academy.

Mr McMahon said: "Everyone at Hednesford Town Football Club is delighted to see the success that he has achieved with Swansea City FC and having won Premier League status, as well as accolades with the Wales National side."

Williams joined Ilkeston Town FC's youth team after leaving Albion and was recommended to the Pitmen.

Mr McMahon's son, Michael, was a team mate of Williams at Albion, and having known the young star personally, Mr McMahon snr advised the Pitmen's then youth team manager, James Thomas, to pursue the recommendation.

Excel

Hednesford recruited the young Williams and he quickly made an impact by becoming a key player of the youth team that won the Conference PASE Northern Division in 2002.

At 18, Williams broke into the first team and showed his potential to excel in the professional game, soon locking down a move to Stockport County FC.

Mr McMahon added, "His main strength is his unshakable self-belief and the ability to bounce back from setbacks that all football players will see from time to time."

"He is also very level headed and stable in his approach."

"His rise in the game has been followed by all of his friends here at Hednesford Town FC and he has never forgotten his start in the game, often mentioning his time at our club."

"We still have a strong connection with Ashley at Hednesford Town FC as his father, Errol Williams, will be involved with the management and coaching of our youth team in the forthcoming season, as assistant manager to Keith Holmes. "It is likely that Ashley will put in an appearance at a youth team match for us from time to time, which can be inspirational for all the young players involved."

Corporal Andy Lang receives his commendation from Brigadier Mark Banham

Soldier draws on experience to land accolade

A BURNTWOOD soldier has been honoured for his outstanding work in producing technical drawings for projects worth more than £5.5 million in Afghanistan.

Corporal Andy Lang, of the Royal Engineers, worked on the projects to help stabilise and develop Helmand Province. He was the sole draughtsman in support of the provincial reconstruction team during the course of Operation Herrick 10, from March to September 2009.

Cpl Lang's citation said his work was "consistently of very high quality, executed with only minimal supervision."

Chasetown-born Cpl Lang, who lives with partner Linzy and sons Josh, aged four, and two-year-old Charlie, was also praised for showing "enduring fortitude and humour in the light of an incessant workload throughout the tour."

The projects on which Cpl Lang worked were tasks undertaken by a specialist Royal Engineers team as part of the reconstruction of towns and community facilities in Afghanistan.

Presenting the commendation, Brigadier Mark Banham, Commander of 143 (West Midlands) Brigade, said: "Corporal Lang demonstrated extraordinary flexibility and dedication, never once questioning the challenge that he faced."

The 29-year-old has now served four tours of duty in Afghanistan. He is currently a member of the Army Recruiting Team, based at MoD Stafford, part of 143 (West Midlands) Brigade.

Artwork will be unveiled

ARTWORK designed by young people in Burntwood was being unveiled today (Thursday).

The youngsters have been involved in Morph4us, a community arts project, to design permanent art pieces around the town.

The aim of the project is to break down some of the social barriers between young people and the community.

The Morph4us team consists of young people from Burntwood, with help from Staffordshire Youth Service, Positive Futures which is funded by the Home Office, Lichfield District Council and Born Communication Ltd.

The team have already produced art that can be seen in Redwood Park, and in Burntwood Leisure Centre. The current artwork will be at the Old Mining College, Queen Street, Burntwood and the Morph4us team were set to hold a celebration event from 2-5pm for the work to be unveiled.

It will feature live music, entertainment, arts and crafts activities, and even a workshop on circus skills.

'It was such an amazing moment, I thought I would burst with pride', says Helen

Embroiderer kept royal wedding dress secret

LIKE millions of other people Helen McCook hung out the bunting and flags and settled down with her family to watch the Royal Wedding.

But her heart was pounding as the clock ticked closer to 11am, when Kate Middleton was expected to leave the Goring Hotel to make her way to Westminster Abbey.

As the bride emerged, Helen was finally able to reveal her secret to her family and friends - that she had helped create that famous wedding dress.

The design of the wedding dress was such a well-kept secret that even those who had worked on the gown couldn't reveal their involvement anyone until 11am on the day of the royal wedding.

Helen worked with a team of embroiderers at the Royal School of Needlework (RSN) to make the lace which went on the dress, Kate's wedding shoes and veil, as well as Pippa Middleton's dress.

Designed by Sarah Burton of Alexander McQueen, the dress cost £40,000 and took hundreds of hours of work to complete.

Helen, 33, said: "On the day of the wedding I had put out the bunting, just like thousands of other people, and then settled down with my mum and dad, Tom and Carol, my sister Sarah and her husband as well as my aunt and gran."

"When Kate came out of the hotel at 11 o'clock I said to everyone 'what do you think of Kate's wedding dress' and they all said they loved it - and that was when I told them I had helped make it."

"It was such an amazing moment for me to finally reveal

Helen with another piece of her handiwork that I had been involved in the making of that elegant dress. I thought I would burst with pride."

Helen, who lives near Sutton Coldfield and went to Bishop Vesey School, trained at the Royal School of Needlework and returns to train and assess others.

Palace

"When you train with the RSN you are told there will be times when you have to keep a job top secret," she said.

"You know that if you get a phone call, and they don't explain why they want you to go in to see them, then it is one of those times. So, after getting the phone call I went down to Hampton Court Palace, where the RSN is based, and then heard what I would be working on there."

Kate's dress was a long-sleeved, lace gown. The lace on the bride's dress detailed a rose, thistle, daffodil and shamrock, hand-made by the RSN team.

Helen says they approached the job with the same dedication and attention to detail that they would for any commission, which has included making a dress for Kate Moss and hangings for Blenheim Palace.

To keep the dress in perfect condition, workers washed their hands every 30 minutes to keep the lace and threads pristine. Also the needles were renewed every three hours, to keep them sharp and clean and so they didn't create friction against the surface of the lace or silk net.

"Stitches were kept small so they would be virtually invisible to the eye and were spaced at approximately two to three millimetres apart to make it very secure, and it was all done by hand," says Helen.

"Our work set the world talking on a day which seemed like something from a fairytale - and when William told her she looked beautiful, it was the icing on the cake for everyone who had been involved in her outfit."

Gloves off as boxing club officially opened

YOUNG members of a Cannock boxing club were congratulated on their achievements at an official launch last week.

The event at Coniston Hall, in Chadsmoor on Wednesday (May 25), also celebrated the successes of the project so far.

Youngsters were presented with medals and certificates as part of their Preliminary Award and they presented a boxing display to show the skills they had learned so far.

Members of Cannock Chase Council's Resident Champions' Group showed their support for the project along with district and county council representatives, Staffordshire Police and members of the community. The Right Stuff Project was set up in January to tackle anti-social behaviour in the Chadsmoor area.

Since opening, the club has grown rapidly and currently has 33 young people taking part.

So many young people have signed up that, thanks to additional funding from the Chase Community Safety Partnership, more clubs will soon be on the way, with clubs for eight to 12-year-olds, 13-to-19-year-olds and one just for females. The club is also working closely with Addiction Dependency Solutions (ADS) which works with adults that are dependant on alcohol and drugs. Users will be taking part in the boxing awards scheme and may go on to be Right Stuff volunteer tutors.

The Right Stuff Project targets young people who could be at risk of becoming involved in anti-social behaviour but is open to everyone. Participants carry out community tasks in return for learning boxing skills and earning rewards.

4 Girls 4 Harps are at the Lichfield Garrick Theatre on June 24

FOUR GIRLS, FOUR HARPS AND A NIGHT OF CLASSICS

FOUR award-winning harpists come together for an evening of innovative classical music in Lichfield.

4 Girls 4 Harps, the world's leading harp quartet, play at the Lichfield Garrick on Friday June 24.

The group formed in London 11 years ago to perform, record, create and commission new music.

Since then they've performed all over Europe, delighting audiences with popular pieces by Handel, Mozart, Joplin, Gerstwin and Debussy among others.

Keziah Thomas, Ang-harad Wyn Jones, Harriet

Adie and Eleanor Turner make up the group and all four enjoy talking to the audience as well as playing their concert and electric harps.

The quartet's latest CD, Fireworks and Fables, has been regularly broadcast on Classic FM and BBC Radio 3 and admirers of their music include Paul Gambaccini, Classic FM presenter David Mellor and former Radio 3 presenter Stephanie Hughes.

Many original works have been commissioned by the group including pieces by British composers Edward Longstaff and Edward Watson, as well as original works by the group's two composers Eleanor Turner and Harriet Adie. They were also invited to perform the World premiere of Edward Cowie's Nymphaeas at the Warehouse, London, in 2008.

A spokesperson for the Lichfield Garrick said: "The amazing sound of four harps encompasses many contrasting genres to delight audiences of all ages."

"Their concert programmes generate enormous musical excitement and variety, demonstrating just what the harp is capable of."

Tickets for 4 Girls 4 Harps cost £15. To book call 01543 412121 or visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com

Naked Truth is that more was expected

WITH a play written by Dave Simpson, author of the popular, 'Girls' Night Out' and with a cast of six actresses with such impressive CVs, one could be forgiven for expecting more from this production.

Now in its fifth tour since it opened in 2007, The Naked Truth tells the story of five ladies from very different backgrounds, who come together to take a course of pole-dancing sessions as an alternative keep-fit regime, under the guidance of ex-professional pole-dancer, Gabby, played by Nikki Sanderson, former Coronation Street star Candice.

Exciting

Her pupils, all with different stories to tell, 'bare their souls' as the plot unravels resulting in an unlikely female bonding situation.

There is West End 'Hairspray' star, Leanne Jones as Bev, the one-night-stand record-holder who longs for true love and who finds it in the arms of the husband of Brian, who has joined the group in order to make her marriage more exciting. This part was ably played by understudy, Sophie Michaels.

Singer Maureen Nolan, now a seasoned West End actress, sensitively played Sarah, who discovers that she has terminal breast cancer and who cajoles the group to perform their newly acquired skills in aid of breast cancer charity.

Rita, played by Sarah White - best known as Bev McLoughlin from Brookside - a seemingly confident type, turns out to be a victim of marital abuse and finally there is Faith, an innocent, dim-witted virgin, cleverly played by Alison Young.

All of the cast worked hard to make their stereotypical characters believable with the honours going to Alison Young and Leanne Jones.

The script did not help as a number of events that transpired were far from realistic.

The humour was predictable with a mixture of one-liners, double entendres and innuendo with the inevitable anti-male references.

Nevertheless, mainly through the skills of the actors, including those using the poles in their show within a show, the evening was a success with the predominantly female audience, who, were after all, on a 'girls' night out'.

Abba sounds with Smackee

BARRY WALKER'S Smackee show band returns to Lichfield with Abba the Show on Saturday June 11.

The award-winning production takes in the many hits of legendary Swedish group Abba in a two-hour performance.

Audiences are invited to come along and say Thank You for the Music and become a Dancing Queen all over again.

Swedish legends Bjorn, Benny, Agnetha and Anni-Frid became one of the most successful pop acts in history, regularly topping the charts for 10 years from 1972 to 1982.

They sold more than £375million records worldwide, ranking them fourth on the list of best-selling artists of all time.

Their biggest hits became household classics, including Waterloo, Mamma Mia, Fernando, Knowing Me Knowing You, Take a Chance on Me and The Winner Takes It All.

Five of their eight original studio albums reached number one in the UK, Arrival, The Album, Voulez Vous, Super Trouper and The Visitors.

Tickets for Abba the Show, which takes place at the Lichfield Garrick, are £19.75. To book visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com or call 01543 412121.

That'll be the day for discount offer

THEATREGOERS can get a special discount price for a variety show which celebrates its 25th anniversary with a performance to Cannock this weekend.

That'll be the Day return to the Prince of Wales Centre with the show's greatest hits, featuring the most popular comedy routines and songs from the 1950s, 60s and 70s.

The nostalgia show prides itself on bringing completely live entertainment from the best musicians, singers and entertainers in the country.

Dusty Springfield, The Beatles and The Blues Brothers all get the That'll be the Day treatment, which critics have called "non-stop nostalgia" and "music heaven".

The show comes to Cannock this Sunday (June 5) at 7.30pm and tickets normally cost £20.

To get a £5 discount quote 'TBTD offer' when calling the box office to book on 01543 57872.

Players offer three for the price of one

Club for children to act up

LICHFIELD'S Garrick theatre is inviting budding performers to join its new Saturday Dee Gee's Club.

The fun-filled club started last month and is aimed at children aged from six to 11.

It offers the chance to take part in creating art, cartoons, film, drama, dance and singing.

Adrian Jackson, the Garrick's executive and artistic director, said: "The new Dee Gee's Club will give children the opportunity to create and perform in the Garrick Studio.

"It will be great fun and a chance for young people to make new friends and to explore their creative side."

Dee Gee's Club costs £4 a week and runs from 10am-noon. Call 01543 412121 to book.

FOR one night only the people of Rugeley are being treated to a performance from Hednesford's premier drama group.

Tower Players will be presenting Three for the Price of One at St Joseph's Hall, Lichfield Street, on Friday June 24.

The show consists of three short plays, beginning with The Dumb Waiter, by Harold Pinter.

It's labelled as an intriguing black comedy concerning two hit-men as they prepare to carry out a contract killing in a dingy cafe. For the second performance Tower Players will hand over to a new drama outfit entitled Andrew Lloyd Webbedfeet's Really Useless Group.

In their own inimitable style the actors will present Murder at D'Arcy Manor, a whodunnit which should have the audience spellbound.

Acclaim

The show concludes with a reduced version of Close the Coal-house Door, the celebrated musical play about pitmen and their mines.

Back in 2006, Tower Players performed their locally adapted version of the full play to considerable acclaim, including from many ex-miners.

Now Rugeley folk get the chance to relive some of the key moments in that proud industry's history through words and music in this shortened version.

Three for the Price of One starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £2.50.

Audience members are invited to bring their own food and sit at pre-booked tables.

To book call either 01543 422330, 01543 502306, 01543 577971 or 01543 503995.

Alternatively visit www.towerplayers.co.uk or pay on the door.

Fredz make Tackeroo return

Fred Zeppelin frontman Steven Gale

ACCLAIMED Led Zeppelin tribute act Fred Zeppelin make a welcome return to a Hednesford music venue next week.

The group, which has the honour of being recommended by none other than Robert Plant himself, will be at the The Tackeroo, in Bracken Close, Brindley Heath next Friday, June 10.

This year marks the band's 18th year together, during which time they have played alongside John Bonham's son Jason and had the likes of Roy Wood and Mel Galley come to see them.

They were also invited by Led Zeppelin's Jimmy Page to attend a charity event.

Tickets for the show are £7 on the door.

Call the venue on 01543 423124 or visit www.fredz.com for more details about the band.

Football club hosts eccentric rockers

ECCENTRIC rockers Vincent and the Onepotts are bringing their unique brand of loud and heavy rock to Lichfield for the first time.

Their gig, at Lichfield City Football Club's Brownsfield Park on Friday June 17, is part of a fundraising event for the club's under-14s team.

The group formed in 2008 following the demise of Pigtish and the Blunts and now includes new band member Anton, from notorious punk act Drongos for Europe.

Vincent and the Onepotts draw on a range of rock influences and mix it with their punk attitude, claiming to play like their lives depend on it.

Joining them for the Lichfield City FC gig will be Scurry Dogs, Fountain of Youth and Failure by Design.

Tickets are £3 on the door and doors open at 7.30pm.

The top property guide for Cannock, Penkridge, Heath Hayes Great Wyrley, Rugeley, Hednesford, Burntwood and Lichfield

A spacious conservatory with ceramic tiled flooring makes a useful addition to the detached property

Number 43 Canterbury Way, Heath Hayes, is on the market with R&S Property Services for £225,000

Detached has been extended and improved

This much improved and extended detached in Heath Hayes benefits from gas central heating and double glazing.

In brief, the accommodation at 43 Canterbury Way comprises of reception hall, lounge, dining room, refitted breakfast kitchen, conservatory, utility, guest wc, four bedrooms, refitted shower room, family bathroom, front and rear gardens, plus driveway providing off road parking.

On the market for offers below £225,000, key features include a good-sized lounge with bay window to the front of the property, feature fire surround with gas fire set onto a marble effect hearth, television and telephone points, coved ceiling and laminated flooring.

A conservatory has a ceramic tiled floor, light and power points.

The breakfast kitchen has a range of oak fronted base units comprising drawer and cupboard space with rolled edged work surfaces over, stainless steel electric cooker with stainless steel extractor fan above, sink unit with side drainer and mixer taps, integrated automatic dishwasher, fridge and freezer, tiled splash backs, oak fronted wall mounted storage units, laminated flooring, window to the rear of the property, power points, concealed ceiling spot lighting, double central heating radiator and coved ceiling.

On the first floor, all four bedrooms have fitted furniture.

Outside, there is a lawned rear garden area, ornamental trees and shrubs, paved patio area, paved pathway giving access to the front of the property via a wooden security gate, outside water tap, outside courtesy lighting and fully fenced boundaries.

For further details, or to arrange a viewing, call R&S Property Services on 01543 466999.

With a feature fireplace, bay window and laminate flooring, the lounge is a warm and inviting space

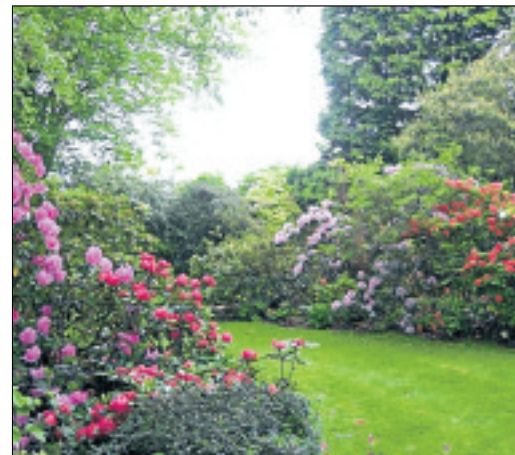

The cornus is shown slotted in between the rhododendrons and azaleas

Rhododendron Queen Mary, one of the first blooms to arrive this spring

A view across Pat's garden, showing how rhododendrons define paths

Everything arrives together as early spring baffles nature

Rhododendron hawk crest is a big plant, but it can easily be pruned to keep going upwards

FOLLOWING the worst winter for many years, and then one of the driest springs, nature is somewhat confused, resulting in a very early spring.

Things have arrived that should not be out yet, and the birds and animals are all mixed up about things too.

In the garden it means that everything has arrived at once.

Things which should come in June are already here; rhododendrons are out at the same time as magnolias, and many of the herbaceous plants are here at the same time.

The rhododendrons are fabulous this year, as they are not affected by the bad weather they are all looking absolutely fantastic.

Queen Mary is a gorgeous pink, and in my garden it leads the way, usually one of the first to come out. This year it is nearly over now, but forecast the way for all the others.

Monica and Karen are small in size, but make up for that in that they are reliable to give lots of blossom every year. Ightham yellow is another small rhododendron, suitable for smaller gardens.

Hawk crest is a big, yellow rhododendron, it grows a little bigger each year, and it goes up, beyond some of the smaller ones.

The rhododendrons are incredibly useful in my garden, as they define the shape of the beds.

Meander

Being evergreen they are there all the year round, and the blossom comes just once in the year, as a bonus.

The paths meander through them, and I prune them back from the paths if they encroach. Many of my rhododendrons have been in the garden now for 45 years, and some reach way over my head, but they still define the direction of the paths, and also the shape of the walks around the beds.

Many shrubs, such as weigelas and viburnums have been used to fill up between the rhododendrons, and can be pruned to fit the spaces, providing the flowers that make up for the lack of blossom later in the year from the rhododendrons, and, of course the azaleas, which are deciduous, but have wonderful autumn foliage later on.

The attractive pink-flowered Leptospermum

White-flowered Beauty Bush (Kolkwitzia)

Ready to burst into riot of flower colour

IT'S summer at last and your garden should be looking great and ready to burst into a riot of flower colour and productive veg and fruit growing. There's no problem if you missed out on sowing and planting during the great weather of spring. With a little help from these topical tips you can catch up with transforming your plot into an instantly beautiful garden.

DECORATIVE FLOWER BORDERS

Many shrubs and trees will burst into bloom during the month including highly perfumed mock orange (Philadelphus), beautiful roses, pink-flowered Leptospermum, white-flowered Beauty Bush (Kolkwitzia) and blue Ceanothus. You may find that recently-planted Ceanothus have not survived the really harsh winter and are struggling to flower. In that case you will need to face up to the inevitable and dig up any plants that are struggling. When planting replacement shrubs ensure you improve the soil with a soil conditioner laced with some controlled release plant food such as Osmocote to encourage steady but strong root growth. Transforming your garden into a flowering bonanza is easy at this time of the year. You can buy tender bedding plants such as geraniums, petunias, verbena and the like in smallish pots that are already in bloom. They are such brilliant value for money as most of them will bloom from early June right through until the first frosts of winter. Planted into decent soil borders that have been improved with the addition of some organic soil improver they will flower for four or five months without little more attention, other than the occasional water in really hot, dry spells. If your soil is sandy, stoney or chalky plant roots will appreciate the addition of some Miracle-Gro Moisture Control Plant Food as well. Just sprinkle into the soil and you not only add slow release plant foods but also add some water holding granules that absorb up to 400 per cent of their own weight in water.

Hose

Watch out for greenfly breeding on the new stems and buds of your roses. At this time of the year they breed overnight and every night resulting in populations that can soon explode out of control. If there are only a few pests and the foliage is otherwise free of powdery mildew disease or rose blackspot then you could simply hose them off, but if there are signs of disease you would be better spraying with RoseClear Ultra Gun - a dual action product that gives internal control of aphids

TIMELY TIP
 If weeds between shrubs are a growing problem get rid of them with one spray of Weedol Rootkill Plus and rose diseases. After Camellias and Rhododendrons have finished flowering it's better to deadhead the stems now rather than allowing the seed pods to develop. This will save the plant's energy going to useless seed production and diverting it to beneficial new stem growth that will carry next year's blooms. Feeding and watering ericaceous plants at this time of the year helps new flower buds to form. It is too late to apply a slow release plant food, but absolutely perfect timing to apply a soluble plant food every fortnight or so through a watering can. Add a capful of Miracle-Gro Azalea, Camellia and Rhododendron Liquid Plant Food to a watering can of rainwater and apply over the leaves and around the roots. Applied in the evening it gets absorbed almost instantly to prevent yellowing of leaves caused by lack of iron and nitrogen.

Summer auction

BAIRSTOW Eves is taking part in a special summer auction hosted by Countrywide Property Auctions, the UK's largest regional auctioneer.

Taking place on Monday, July 25, at Aston Villa Football Club, the special event has been organised to meet the increasing demand for properties at auction and will include a large selection of properties supplied by leading local agents Bairstow Eves.

Guide prices are set to start from around £80,000, with ideal first time homes, investment opportunities and substantial family homes all going under the hammer. Launching the event, Mark Tanton, Countrywide's principal auctioneer, comments: "As the prospect of a quick sale grows in popularity for both buyers and sellers, auctions have become an increasingly popular way of purchasing property in the UK. In April alone, over 1,200 residential properties were sold via auction in the UK."

Bargain

"The wide range of properties available and the fact that average auction sales complete in just 20 working days make auctions a very attractive opportunity for all types of buyers and investors looking to pick up a bargain." Local agent Bairstow Eves are supporting this special event. To find out more about the properties in your local area going to auction, or if you would like to sell your property through auction, visit www.countrywidepropertyauctions.co.uk or contact your local Bairstow Eves office. The deadline for entering properties into the special summer auctions is next Monday, June 6.

Fuel savings are high on Peugeot 308's agenda

THIS MONTH sees a facelifted Peugeot 308 in the showrooms which also brings a boost in fuel efficiency and low CO2 emissions.

And what an attractive package this popular car is.

The 308 was first launched in September 2007 and was the first of Peugeot's new "8" generation cars. More than 89,000 have been sold in the UK alone and Peugeot is confident its success will continue with the second incarnation.

Peugeot as a brand is really changing and the 308 arrives with the latest styling elements from the marque - already seen on the 508 and the SR1 Concept Car. On the outside, the design has been sharpened up with a new look at the front, which is sharply raked and has the latest LED headlamps and daytime running lights to give the new 308 an elegant and modern look.

By Sharon Walters

Inside, the design has also been updated, bringing it right up to date.

It is available in three body styles - Hatchback, CC and SW, and four multi-model trim levels: Access, SR, Active and Allure. A range-topping hatchback and CC THP 200 model will arrive later this year in a single GT trim level.

Standard kit on all models includes air conditioning, stability control, all-round electric windows, remote locking and six airbags.

But it is really under the metal shell that the biggest changes come with the introduction of more efficient engines and Peugeot's innovative micro-hybrid e-HDi stop and start technology.

There is a choice of four petrol and four diesel engines - ranging from an entry-level 1.4-litre petrol with 98bhp and five-speed gearbox right through to the six-speed 200bhp 1.6 THP and a 163bhp 2.0-litre HDI automatic.

The best among these is the 1.6-litre e-HDi hatchback, with 112bhp and stop and start fitted as standard.

Segment

Peugeot's micro-hybrid e-HDi stop and start is the latest generation technology (it is also available in the recently launched 508) and combined with Peugeot's class-leading 1.6-litre HDI FAP 112 Euro5 diesel reduces CO2 emissions to 98g/km.

And that gives the 308 the lowest emissions in its segment and something company car drivers are giving great importance to when they choose their cars.

The stop and start system means the car engine automatically switches off at idle and restarts the moment you put it back into gear or release the brake.

You get around 16 per cent reduction in fuel consumption with this as well, which will please most bank balances. This engine option will also be available with either a six-speed manual gearbox or a six-speed electronically-controlled manual gearbox (EGC).

A sporty look to Peugeot's 308 CC model

The 308 SW model

To ensure the New Peugeot 308 is as environmentally efficient as possible all other factors affecting CO2 emissions have been optimised:

- Overall weight reduced by 25kg on average on all models.
- New 16in ultra-low rolling resistance tyres.

- Optimisation of all engine options (VTI, THP petrol and HDI diesel engines to Euro5).
- Drag coefficient of 0.28 for the low-consumption models - a record for this segment. This also enables the new Peugeot 308 HDI FAP 92 model, fitted with a five-speed manual gearbox, to emit CO2 emissions of only 110g/km.

Now all this paints a pretty good picture, but what of the drive itself?

Enjoyment

The 308 is already tops in terms of road holding and pure enjoyment, and that has improved further.

Prices start at £16,245 on the road for the 1.4 VTI and rise up through the range to £23,395 for the HDI Auto.

Fancy a new car? How about £1,200 off the deposit?

Motorists can benefit from up to £1,200 deposit allowance on the Proton range

WITH the price of motoring ever on the increase, Proton has developed a series of deposit allowances towards the purchase of a new Proton, when bought via one of its affordable finance schemes.

Under the scheme, motorists can take advantage of between £500 and £700 towards their deposit on the ecologic.

With lower CO2 emissions and fuel costs, the dual fuel LPG ecologic from Proton comes with a £500 (GEN-2) or £700 (Persona) deposit allowance when financed with Proton Finance.

Motorists can also get their hands on up to £750 deposit allowance towards the GEN-2 – the ultimate family hatchback featuring Lotus ride and handling.

Last, but not least, a whopping £1,200 deposit allowance is available on the GEN-2 Persona.

Elegant

Ideal for taking a grown up family in elegant, air conditioned comfort, motorists can benefit from a first repayment three months after ordering.

Simon Park, General Manager Sales and Marketing for Proton Cars (UK) Ltd. said: "By rolling out this exclusive finance deposit contribution scheme across our dealer network in the UK, we hope that customers will really feel the benefit at a time when every little helps – especially when buying a new car."

To find out more about any of these offers or arrange a test drive, contact your local Proton dealer, call Proton on 0800 0 521521 or visit www.proton.co.uk. This offer ends on June 30, 2011.

Suzuki supermini has big green credentials

Compact in size and low in emissions, the Swift has a new 1.3-litre engine

SUZUKI has added a low emission 1.3-litre model to the Swift range.

Available in 148 Suzuki dealerships from June 1, the Swift DDiS uses a new 75PS 1.3-litre engine, has emissions of 109g/km with combined fuel consumption of 67.3mpg, and an estimated driving range of more than 500 miles.

Swift DDiS is available for £12,890 as a five-door model with seven airbags, air conditioning, 16-inch alloy wheels, USB port and heated electric door mirrors.

The Euro 5 emissions turbo-charged engine is smoother and more responsive with maximum torque of 190Nm from 1,750rpm and a 0-82mph time of 12.7 seconds. With the Swift, driving a compact car does not mean settling for less; Suzuki has condensed performance, impact safety, handling and other essentials for enjoyment while easing the environmental burden.

Manual

Launched last September, the Swift range with Dual VVT 1.2-litre petrol engine starts from £10,210 for the S22 three-door up to £13,525 for the S24 five-door with automatic transmission.

Emissions for the petrol engine with manual transmission are 116g/km making it one of the cleanest compact superminis.

The 10 top tips that can make you a better driver

ROAD safety charity the IAM is offering weekly motoring tips from Britain's top advanced driver, Peter Rodger. This week he recommends ten tips for better driving.

1. Read the road: The further ahead you look, the more time you have to recognise and respond to hazards. Always be able to stop your vehicle in the distance you can see to be clear.
2. Anticipate: Having looked further ahead use that knowledge to anticipate the problems that might come up and plan for them well in advance to avoid needing to take last minute action.
3. Use the two second rule: Spot a marker ahead, such as a bridge or a lamp-post and wait until the vehicle ahead of you goes past it. Then say to yourself: "Only a fool breaks the two second rule." If you are at the marker before you have finished, you are too close. Double it if the road is wet.
4. Concentrate: At 70 mph your stopping distance is the length of a football pitch. Looking away at a crucial moment can be fatal.
5. Assume the worst: Never assume that another motorist has seen you or will react as you expect – and don't rely on somebody else's reactions to keep you safe.

6. Look behind – and to the side: Use mirrors regularly so you have a 360 degree knowledge of what's going on around you. Use shoulder checks before you move out to solve blind spot problems.

7. Manage your personal space: If you keep space around your vehicle, you'll have more time and room to deal with hazards.

8. Stay fresh: Driver fatigue is a major factor in many crashes. Take at least a 15-minute break after two hours at the wheel.

9. No sudden movements: If you have scanned all around you and used that information to predict what may happen, you should never be surprised by another vehicle's movements.

10. Learn from your mistakes: Near misses happen to everybody. Afterwards, think how you could have avoided getting into that situation, even if you think it was the other driver's fault.

Rodger said: "Following these tips could make the difference between being in an accident or avoiding it.

"All drivers should think about taking further driving training to improve their performance behind the wheel and save money on running and maintenance costs," he added.

You want to buy a second-hand car.

Just something that's fuel-efficient. But it needs a bit of power – your neighbourhood's quite nilly and your groceries can be so heavy. And it's nice to have an engine that roars.

Swedes launch select softroader

Competitive pricing will challenge more mainstream SUV rivals

X marks spot for drivers, both on and off the road

Wide rear pillars give a floating roof effect to the car

SPARE a moment's thought for Saab. It's a car company that enjoys almost universal respect. When was the last time you heard someone have a go at a Saab product or a Saab driver?

It's a combination of Swedish origins and a reluctance to follow the crowd, and products that don't slavishly follow the fickle finger of fashion hold a certain appeal.

Not that Saab is a company that will ignore its customers. The recently updated 9-5 received some detailed tweaks in response to customer feedback, and now there's a whole new car that arguably meets a need - Saab has decided to go soft-roading with the 9-4X, writes Matt Joy.

The 'X' suffix indicates four-wheel drive and off-road capability, and however modest it is, most owners will rarely trouble more than a raised kerb.

That makes it more of a crossover, a tag that Saab is happy for the 9-4X to wear and in doing so it takes on a host of premium rivals.

Unlike some of those rivals the 9-4X successfully transplants the family DNA on to the SUV template. It shares many of its styling cues with the 9-5 saloon, including the ice-block headlights, three-piece grille and full width rear reflector.

It also has the "floating

Facts at a glance

- Saab 9-4X Aero Turbo6
- Engine: 2.8-litre petrol producing 296bhp and 295lb/ft of torque
- Transmission: Six-speed automatic driving all four wheels
- Performance: Top speed 142mph, 0-62mph in 8.3 seconds
- Economy: 23mpg combined (est)
- Emissions: 280g/km CO2 (est)

of diesel powerplants in other Saabs that would do just fine.

In the meantime however, the V6 turbo gives the kind of performance expected of a 300bhp powerplant.

With the Drive Sense system set in Eco mode, the 9-4X maximises economy by reducing the sharpness of the throttle response and makes the gearbox shift into high gears early.

That works fine at lower speeds but on the open road Comfort or Sport modes demonstrate the full performance.

It may not be the absolute fastest of the compact SUVs but it's hard to imagine needing something quicker on the road.

There's a good balance between comfort and handling in terms of the suspension too, again helped by the Drive Sense system which electronically adjusts damper setting to the driver's needs.

Fraction

The 20-inch wheels certainly contribute to a ride that is a fraction firmer than most, but few buyers would find fault with comfort levels.

On the flip side the 9-4X is happy to be hustled through a series of bends, giving little indication of its size and weight.

The 9-4X has few downsides - inevitably the petrol engine is relatively thirsty compared to diesel rivals, but to a degree this is offset by the very generous standard specification.

Just one model in the range comes complete with satellite navigation, a Bose audio system with 10GB hard drive and DAB radio, electric front seats with heating and cooling, keyless entry and a rear-view camera all as standard.

With prices likely to put it between premium rivals and more mainstream offerings, the Saab 9-4X will meet the needs of many while also appealing to those with a streak of individuality.

The introduction of a powerful diesel option would offer a real threat to the best in the class.
