the University of IDAHO

F O R E W O R D

WITH rockets and missiles receiving world-wide attention during the past year, modern education was given the task of preparing future citizens for the scientific world of tomorrow. The University of Idaho kept in step with this progress. A new and adequate library opened in the fall, and dormitories were provided to allow more students to receive a higher education. Expansion in the academic fields was planned. The ASUI presented ideas for an extension to the Student Union Building. All these ideas were developed with a regard for the future of the state and the University. But interwoven with the progress at Idaho is the feeling of rich tradition which prevails in the landmarks and the activities on campus. With this firm foundation in the past, Idaho can progress toward the future.

Homecoming . . . Holly Week . . . the I Tower . . . Song Fest . . . serenades . . . silver and gold . . . all these bring memories of a full college life to each student. May the 1958 Gem of the Mountains help you relive your year spent at the University of Idaho.

DEDICATION

Dr. D. R. Theophilus

HE IS A university president who sits in no ivory tower. He is one who works closely with students, faculty, and the people of the State, because he has the interests of all of them at heart. Believing that a university must primarily do two things—maintain quality and move forward—he has shown both initiative and courage in guiding the University of Idaho to the achievement of these goals.

Holding three degrees from Iowa State College, he has devoted most of his adult life to education. He first taught at Iowa State and then at Western Kentucky Teachers College. Since 1927, he has served the University of Idaho in roles from professor to dean of the College of Agriculture and to president, the position he has held for the last four years.

His sincerity of purpose as a leader in education has gained him wide acclaim.

This year two special honors came to him. He was awarded an honorary doctorate degree by the College of Idaho, and the Centennial Award of the Iowa State College Alumni Association for his contributions to education that have "added to the stature of Iowa State College." We, the students of the University of Idaho, humbly wish to add our appreciation by dedicating the 1958 GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS to DR. D. R. THEOPHILUS.

Frosh Orientation

Freshmen and new students were given general information on the ins and outs of college life, forming study habits, and tested for abilities. Co-chairmen Helen Gregory and Lee Scott saw that the incoming students were kept busy during the week before classes began.

President Theophilus conducted the President's Convocation that started off Orientation activities. The busy frosh attended various assemblies to acquaint them with the different functions of the university, and took aptitude and interest tests to help them in choosing majors. Orientation was not all work, for mixers were held at various times and the whole problem was capped off by an all-campus carnival-mixer.

ATO's try to beat the heat with an informal gathering on the lawn.

Rush

Rush was shortened to four days this year, but the members and rushees had the same fun, decisions, and excitement as in previous years. The parties were held during the first four days of Orientation prior to registration, so the rushees found themselves quite busy going from meetings to parties and tests. The tired but happy members greeted the new pledges on "Squeal Day" and helped them move into the houses.

Orientation, rush, registration, and finally the bookstore, let's just hope this frosh made it home.

Now for the familiar ill-fitting brown uniform.

Registration

The 1957-58 fall enrollment record broke all previous records with a total of 3,700 students registering at the University of Idaho.

Registration with its numbers, its endless lines of students waiting, its parking permits and its class cards took place September 19 and 20 in Memorial Gym. A new system was used this year to eliminate students standing in line for two days. Each student obtained a number and had a specific time to go through the lines.

After much ado over class schedules, changes, professors, mug-photos and final class cards the students at Idaho waited eagerly for Monday morning when classes would begin.

Teddy McReynolds smiles for the birdie so she can get her ID card.

"Sorry, all filled up, you'll have to pick another section."

Busy students quickly fill out class cards in the Gym

"Hold that position, take a deep breath." Click. And another student has an X-ray.

Classes Begin

After the excitement of rush, registration and the Dad's Day festivities we started classes on Monday, September 23. Armed with new books, notebooks, pens, slide rules and class schedules we rushed up "Hello Walk" to make the first 8 o'clock of the '57-'58 year.

Campus Carnival

To start the all-campus social events off with a bang the Campus Carnival was held September 28 in the SUB Ballrooms. Nan Alvord and Bert Allen headed the committees for the dance where the service organizations and honoraries on campus set up booths to hand out information and answer the "green frosh's" questions.

Some frosh watch KUOI in progress at the Radio-Arg Booth. The IKs explain some of their services and purposes. A couple observe the colorful International Relations Club Booth. Wilma Wright and friend hand out information from the Spurs-Mortar Board Booth.

The big rally complete with posters and wide-eyed frosh started the big week-end.

Watch out! Here comes Kramer!

Dad's Day...

An early Dad's Day program opened the 1957-58 Idaho school year carrying a theme of "Fads with Dad." Warm, sunny weather helped put everyone in good spirits even though the Oregon Ducks downed the Vandals 9 to 6. Fullback Kenny Hall's father came from Newark, Delaware, to take the honors as the Dad to travel the farthest. Delta Gammas and Thetas tied for the house having the most fathers at the game and the lead in poster competition was taken by the Gamma Phis and Campus Club. The festivities concluded with the Pop's Hop in the SUB ballrooms.

Homecoming

A crowd of enthusiastic but wet Homecoming visitors and alums enjoyed a week-end packed with numerous activities beginning with the Freshman Women's Pajama Parade and ending with alums and students dancing to the theme of "Remember" at the annual Homecoming Dance. Marilyn Crane was crowned Homecoming Queen at the rather damp but victorious game in which the Vandals walked over the Fresno State Bulldogs 20-6. The drizzling weather held off long enough for the Pi Phis and Delta Sigs to win first place in the Homecoming Parade with their float "Check Mates."

Living Group Dances

Fall was full of many different types of dances, and costume dances hi-lighted the first few months of school. University of Idaho students contributed much of their time and their talents in making these dances a big success. Pajama dancers, Ivy-Leaguers, '49ers, and many others will long remember the pledge dances of 1957.

An Eventful Year

During the flu epidemic, the Gamma Phis were the first living group to be quarantined. The Nickel Hop, sponsored by the Spurs, was again a big success. The boys welcomed the chance to be able to dance with the girl of their choice for only a nickel. Another activity of the Spurs is to lead the Walkathon along with the I.K.s

Greek Week

The first annual Greek Week, sponsored by I.F.C. and Pan-Hel, was held this year to make the Greeks' activities and purposes known to more people. The week's activities started with dinner exchanges, officer workshops and panel discussions later. A variety show with an act from each house was presented to help raise money for the blind. As part of the "Help—not—Hell—Week" activities, the pledges from each group held a work day in the Lewiston-Moscow area raising money for the project. The activities were capped off by the I.F.C.-Pan-Hel Ball held in the Sub ballroom.

Campus Dances

Many all-campus dances were held both to entertain dance-fans and to raise money for worthy projects and organizations. Muckers, foresters, Greeks, coeds, and their dates are shown at their respective functions.

One of the evening panels consisted of Anand Malik, Boyd K. Packer, Stanley W. Thomas, Mrs. Charles Stockley, Rabbi William P. Sanderson, and Pastor Carl H. Mau, Jr.

R. E. Week

"Man Confronts the World," was this year's theme of Religious Evaluation Week. The three-day conference was opened by a program welcoming and introducing the speakers. The activities of the week included personal conferences in the mornings and seminars in the afternoons. For lunch and dinner the religious speakers visited the various living groups on campus. A speech delivered the last night by Rt. Rev. Bayne, keynote speaker for the conference, concluded the very successful conference week.

Half Time Entertainment

The basketball season again offered different types of entertainment from musical and marching acts to club initiations. The "hi-light" of the season was "Morey O'Donnell Night" which featured Morey O'Donnell, the writer of "Go Vandals Go."

Freshman Week

The freshmen of Idaho launched their annual festivities with a tug of war against the sophomores. A beard growing contest was included and the week ended with the crowning of frosh King and Queen at the dance "Shamrock Land," held March 14.

Hurry girls! It's almost time to start the dance. . . . Watch out for that lamp post, you two! . . . Poor, poor sophomores!

That'll teach you, B. J.! Don't ever lend your car to the sophomores.

Borah Conference

The William Edgar Borah Outlawry of War Foundation was established at the University of Idaho in 1929. Since World War II the main activity of the foundation has been to conduct a series of conferences on the Causes of War and the Conditions of Peace. The theme this year was Society, Science, Security. The main speaker was John Burchard, Dean of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Campus Chest

At the annual Campus Chest the living groups on campus had various ways for making money and included everything from cake walks and marriage booths to a nickel dance and the traditional auction. At this auction the houses bid on one another for promised exchanges such as picnics, breakfasts, crabfeeds and street dances. Everyone attending had a good time and is continuing to do so as a result of the auction.

Blue Key Talent Show

A record crowd witnessed superb talent at the annual Blue Key Talent Show emceed by Dave Maxey and Marv Fisher. With the Judges' decisions trophies were awarded to Gamma Phi Beta, B. M. Schaffer, the "Motherly Brothers," Dorothy Jacobsen, and Elaine Hieber and Don Royster.

Blood Drive

The annual Blood Drive was postponed from its usual place on the fall calendar because of the flu epidemic. Exactly 900 students donated their pints of blood during the drive in April, to exceed the 850-pint goal. Cochairmen Elaine Heiber and Jim Golden did an excellent job carrying out the plans and preparations for the 1957-1958 Blood Drive.

Above, Margaret Remsberg and Gale Mix keep a record of the donated blood. Living groups competed against one another for the highest percentage. Lower picture shows the blood drive in action.

Public Events

The Public Events Series for this year scheduled some of the best speakers the University of Idaho students have ever heard and added a great deal to college life by giving the students new ideas and different opinions on subjects of interest to all. During the year the Community Concert Series brought many gifted artists to the university to help the students broaden their appreciation of fine music.

Educator Dr. Mortimer J. Adler is a long-time believer in a return to the classics and spoke to the student body on "Labor, Leisure and Liberal Education."

Vera Franceschi, a young pianist whose performances have been lauded as first caliber by critics from Los Angeles to Rome, appeared on this year's Community Concert Series.

Spring Dances

Spring finally "sprung" this year and with it the usual variety of dances, ranging from Spring formals to initiation dances. The themes were varied and decorations were carried out accordingly. The expressions on the faces of the couples who were kept busy going from dance to dance reflected upon the time of year.

Mother's Day

Mom spent two busy days at the 49th Annual Mother's Day weekend May 9-10. The May Fete awards ceremony honored those tapped for the many honoraries on campus. Two-night shows by both Helldivers and Orchesis drew large audiences, and a Phi Delt Turtle Race attracted more than 900. The annual Song Fest awarded prizes to the Betas, men's division; KKG, women's division; and Gamma Phis, mixed division.

Little International Week

Miss Carol Hattan, DG, reigned over the 32nd Annual Little International Agricultural Show held May 17. Ag trophies were awarded to Larry Lickey and John DeWitt for outstanding stockman and cropsman respectively. Contests were also held in the fields of beef showing, dairy showing, crops, swine and sheep.

The graduates line the road in front of the Ad Building and wait for graduation exercises to begin.

The University of Idaho's 63rd annual commencement exercises saw diplomas go to 855 seniors and graduate students. The commencement address was given by Dr. Dwight J. Ingle of Ben May Laboratory, a former graduate of the University. During the ceremonies three retiring faculty members were presented citations of merit and three leaders in business and science were given honorary doctorate degrees. Memorial Gym was filled to capacity for both services and music for the exercises was provided by the University Symphony Orchestra and the Idaho Vandaleers.

FINE ARTS

These are your memories . . . memories of the fine arts at the University of Idaho. 1956-1957 drama productions featured "Ring Around the Moon," "Kiss Me Kate," "The Crucible," and one-act plays in the spring. From the annual Christmas Candlelight Concert and the annual concert in the spring come the beautifully blended voices of the Vandaleers and University Singers. Here are precision performances, from the geometric patterns of the University Marching Band, to the high quality talent portrayed by the University orchestra. Many enjoyable guest artists have devoted their time in the presentation of Community Concerts and Idaho's own musical talent was heard during the senior recitals. Orchesis and pre-orchesis added entertainment with their modern dancing. Here is music, art, drama—all a part of your University.

ASUI Drama

The Drama Department was kept very busy this year putting on many different productions. Everyone started work early when "Ring Around the Moon" was presented in the Fall. A very excellent production of "Kiss Me Kate" was given in the early Spring with the help of the Music Department. Next on the list was the drama "The Crucible," and to end the season, a series of one-act plays was presented.

Miss Collette and Mr. Dorgan confer on the layout of one of their excellent drama productions.

"Ring Around the Moon"

A sophisticated comedy, "Ring Around the Moon," was finally presented after being postponed for two weeks because of a campus-wide flu epidemic. Two brothers, Fredic and Hugo run into difficulties when one is engaged to Diana Messerschmann while she loves the other. Another key figure proves to be Diana's father, a millionaire who tries to get rid of all his money.

"Kiss Me Kate"

A sellout rewarded the cast of the A.S.U.I. sponsored play, "Kiss Me Kate." Cole Porter's fast moving musical comedy, sparked by such hits as "I Hate Men," "Why Can't You Behave," and "We Open In Venice," revolves around the life of Fred Graham, director of a company of actors presenting Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew."

One-Act Plays

Each spring the Drama Department puts on a series of one-act plays. They are student directed and give those students interested in drama a chance to really get behind the scenes and watch a play production take shape under their own guidance. This spring some of the productions presented were "The Mad-Woman of Chaillot," "The Little Hut," "Sweet (?) Sixteen," and "The Glass Menagerie."

The cast from "Sweet (?) Sixteen," directed by Ralph Provencal, looks on as Ken Worthing pleads with Candy, played by Toni Botsford.

Lynette Squires stands upon the purple, green, blue and pink steps in "The Mad-Woman of Chaillot." Her friends gather round as they discuss the fate of the world.

Linda Brown, Sandi Wanemaker, and Austin Bergin discuss make-up on the set of "The Glass Menagerie."

Caught off-stage are Bert Allen, Janet Salyer, and Ed Vandervort. They appeared in "The Little Hut" directed by Joan Fisher.

The cast of "Sweet (?) Sixteen" includes Ken Worthing, Toni Botsford, Jyl Rupe, Dewey Ipsen, Alice Billman, Lorna Woelful and Joanno Fingerson.

MUSIC STAFF

Hall M. Macklin very ably fills the position as head of the Music Department. He also gives students lessons on the piano and organ.

Music plays a dominant role in the extra-curricular activities of our University. The instructors who are in charge of the Music Department are experienced, talented people. It is they who deserve the recognition for the fine reputation that Idaho's Music Department has established.

Through the doors of the Music Building walk Idaho's musicians. To many of them, who are music majors, this building marks the key to their future.

Spring means Senior Recital time and the students were privileged to attend many outstanding performances. Among the seniors presented were Carol Ann Renstrom, pianist and Jane Lange, alto.

Glenn Lockery, Vandaleer director, is shown giving assistance to one of his former pupils, Mariqay Nelson, who is now studying music in the East.

The University Vandaleers under the expert direction of Glenn Lockery, provide the University with a very high quality singing group. They present a Christmas and Easter Concert and tour the state in the spring. Their stimulating concerts have brought the Idaho Vandaleers recognition and fame from near and far.

Love of music, experience, and hard work are combined under Mr. Lockery's able direction during one of the many practice sessions.

University Singers

For all students seeking relaxation and enjoyment the University Singers is a perfect choice. Norman Logan directs the many successful appearances of this group. They sing annually at the May Fete and present both a fall and spring concert.

Norman Logan not only directs but plays many instruments himself as is proven by this picture of him in the first chair of the French horn section.

University Band

The University Band is open to all students with the interest and ability. Under the direction of Warren Bellis the band contributes much to university life by its outstanding marching and concert performances.

Warren Bellis' work does not end in June because summer finds him teaching summer school to interested students.

University Orchestra

Sounds of the orchestra tuning up—and the first concert of many has begun under the artful direction of LeRoy Bauer. A high point for the orchestra was the honor of accompanying Vera Franceschi, pianist, of the Community Concert Series. The Spring Concert presented many of the favorite selections of concert-goers climaxing a successful season.

Besides being an excellent conductor, LeRoy Bauer is also an accomplished violinist as he has proven many times this year.

Orchesis

Orchesis, the modern dance group at the University of Idaho, is under the direction of Pat Rowe. These dancers present a Christmas program and perform at the May Fete as well as other events throughout the year.

A "Sleighride" is being interpreted at the annual Orchesis Christmas Show.

The spring show brought about interpretive dances depicting various countries. Here Orchesis members dance "Shangrila."

B. J. Schaffer and Sharon Isaksen do a duet for the spring Orchesis show.

ASUI

All of the student affairs are handled by this elected portion of the University staff. Under the direction of congenial, hard-working Dave Maxey, the ASUI, as a whole, functioned very well during the year. Dave is seen taking part in every aspect of University life, and through his position, he has the responsibility of appearing many times before the student body in both formal and informal roles. Dave and the other members of the ASUI staff are usually the point of any criticism that may come about because of some University policy but deep everyone knows that they all do a fine job, and without their efforts a constant turmoil would exist here at the University.

The very familiar face of Dave Maxey, ASUI president.

Foremost in the ASUI President's duties is the obligation to the students. This includes staying in his office at least part of the day and answering the phone.

Dave's desk in the SUB was always a busy place with numerous things passing over it in the course of the year.

Even the President has to study at the University as is shown by Dave busily concentrating on one of his text books.

Student Union

The center of most happenings on any campus is the student union building, and the Idaho campus is no exception. This comparatively new building is kept going by the efforts of many personalities. The groups pictured on this page are but a few of the many who have a part in the planning of the varied activities carried on by the student body at this location.

Looking ahead to advancements in enrollment, the Student Union has done much to promote expansion, and some of these plans have become a reality in the past years. If additional plans go as scheduled, the University of Idaho will keep its reputation of having one of the nicest Student Union buildings in the west.

Student Union Manager Gale Mix

The hard-working SUB office staff has done much this year to keep the Sub and student affairs in running order. The staff, Gale Mix, James Bolby, Jim Lyle, Dixie Weeks and Karen Campbell were always in the office to greet the students with a friendly smile and to give them whatever information they may have desired.

Cafeteria Staff: Deyonne Carver, Manager and Marie Bipes, Dietician.

Bookstore Staff: Pat Jenness, June Black, Sue Anderson.

The associated women students of the university are represented in this group which has as its membership, one girl from each living group on campus. It is this body which makes all suggestions and rules concerning the women students on the campus. Working with Dean Neeley, the group discusses matters of direct concern to the group and also works out many worthwhile projects for the community and the school. Through this work the women students and as a result the campus as a whole, improve relations with the community and the administrators.

Executive Board

This busy little group of the university either plans or approves all of the student activities on campus. It has in its power the ability to appoint all major committee chairmen, approve new clubs, and to plan numerous other activities.

The exec board is made up of nine regular members, the student body president, the editors of the Gem and the Argonaut, and their advisors, Charles Peterson and Gale Mix.

ASUI Committees

These committees are selected by the Executive Board to serve as the leading faction of the University. In turn these committees select people that will carry out the responsibility of different projects that transpire within the University. Every aspect here at the University is governed in part, by at least one of these committees. It is through the efforts of these committees that college life at the University has been successful.

BOARD OF SELECTION AND CONTROL

SOCIAL CO-ORDINATION COUNCIL

STUDENT UNION COMMITTEE

Row One: Lon Davis, Miss Marion Featherstone, Virginia Symms. Row Two: Kenneth Dick, C. O. Decker, Gale Mix, Bob Cowan, Dave Maxey.

Idaho is well represented nationally as far as student affairs go with this National Students Association committee. The group coordinates Idaho's student policies with the national policies and also presents many beneficial ideas to the student body each year. Front Row: Jim Rathburn, Mike McNichols, Helen Johnson, Weldon Tovey. Second Row: Terry White, Lee Watenpugh, William Roy.

One of the most active men on the campus is the Alumni director Jim Lyle. It is Jim's job to keep in contact with all of the alumni of the University. He puts out a paper throughout the year which contains news of the school and of the other alums. In addition to this duty he also makes numerous trips around the state for the purpose of the betterment of university relations.

COMMUNICATIONS BOARD

The relatively new communications board at the University takes care of all forms of news, both written and over the airways. Through this board the news that the students read is kept up to a high standard. Pictured are: Front Row: Gale Mix, Myrtle Williamson, Dave Maxey, Chris Mackert. Back Row: Dr. Granville Price, Dean Judd, Ed Sielsted.

ASUI Committees

Many of the activities at the University require much work and preparation to make them a success. It is a group of students which performs each one of these activities. In the form of a committee the group coordinates each phase of the occasion so that it is well-coordinated.

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE

A large job each year is the job of planning homecoming activities. The group is chosen through the coordination of the Exec board and the Board of Selection and Control. Shown are: Front Row: Laird Noh and Terry White. Second Row: Bruce Summers, Bob Vallat, and Gerry Steele.

One of the biggest jobs each year is to get the students to come out and give blood. Many arrangements must be made and much publicity given. These jobs and the final job of getting the students through the line in the most efficient way all were done this year by Jim Golden and Elaine Heiber.

Debaters

The debaters here at the University have grown to be respected all over the west for their abilities. Under the leadership of Dr. Whitehead, this group has come through with winning records for many of the past years. Debate in itself helps people to learn to speak and think on their feet, and in doing this, develops leaders. It is this fact that keeps the art of debating alive and active and helps to form clubs such as this.

Reed Bowen and Willis Benjamin, two of Idaho's top debaters.

Two of the dependables, on the team who can always be expected to win their share of debates are Gordon Chester and Bill Currie.

Idaho

Dean Judd acted as Jason this year on the "Arg," and his editorials and columns are known by all of the students.

Jim Golden, the man who writes a column discussed by all, was managing editor this year. His A.P. work and his column "Camp-eyeing" helped to liven up every issue of the Argonaut.

One of the hard workers of the staff was Don Ingle, whose presence in the "Arg" office was like clockwork each Monday and Thursday evenings.

Jim Flanigan, the man with an ear for news, helped to gather all of the latest happenings in every phase of University life, and as news editor, to present them very adequately.

The two girls that make sure all of the copy of the paper is without errors are Kay Conrad and Gladys Hansen. Each article that is to appear in the Arg is looked over by these two and corrected if necessary.

Argonaut

The news of the Idaho campus and the surrounding area comes to the students through this news agency of the University of Idaho. The paper is run on a professional scale with all of the work being done by students. This year, being run by Dean Judd, editor, the paper covered some of the top stories of the state and the nation. The columns of the Arg keep the students up on all of the latest discussion topics of the day, and although many times they are not agreed with, they arouse in the students a feeling of self discipline or government which goes a long ways towards keeping Idaho among the top of the list in colleges throughout the nation.

The main core of the activity in the Arg office is the reporting staff whose job it is to report on all important events. The staff was made up of: Front Row: Al Perkins, Polly Walker, John Blair. Back Row: Stan Martin, Marlin Nelson, and Donna Hubean.

Idaho's sports are covered by this two-man team made up of Dwight Chapin and Gary Randall. Besides varsity sports, these two are responsible for intramurals and any other phase of sporting activity.

Gem of the Mountains

The hard-working students that keep a close watch on all campus activities and record them make up the staff of the Gem of the Mountains, Idaho's yearbook. The Gem staff members this year worked with Jim Gipson and his crew at the Caxton Printers in Caldwell. They took charge of both the printing and the engraving. Mr. Roy Bell at the University Photography Center and the Gem darkroom staff were responsible for pictures and often worked overtime to help meet deadlines. Headed by Bruce Wendle, the photographers snapped hundreds of shots of campus scenes and events to keep the work on the book progressing throughout the year. Of course, there were many complications which developed during the year and which caused many headaches for staff heads. Camera difficulties or lost photo assignments often meant a minor disaster for some section editor. But, despite the trials and tribulations of putting out the book, the staff will feel amply rewarded if each reader finds some pleasant memory of his stay at Idaho included within these pages.

Myrtle Williamson edited the 1958 Gem

The photography crew were kept on the run all year long. Members of this staff were Mark Todd, Margaret Remsberg, Mark Wendle, Marie Wood, Sherry Wilkins, Don Hogaboam, Margaret Tatko, Leo Taffola, Tony Lam, and Bruce Wendle.

One of the hardest working girls in the office who just didn't have time to get her picture taken was Neela McCowan, head of the social section. She was responsible for the coverage of every activity that occurred during the school year. Neela's staff included Gay Tuson, Nancy Reading, June Powells, Pat Rogers, and Carole Lipscomb.

These three helped more than their share on the organization of the year-book work. They are Business Manager Steve Van Horne, Copy Editor Jeanne Stokes, and Carolyn Edwards, who acted as Associate and Administrations Editor.

Not pictured is the Living Group staff whose work was guided by Tom Reveley. The staff included David Munn, Judy Stahl, Kay Bozarth, and Sharon Jenkins.

The organizations staff was headed by Gerry Steele and included Norina Johnson, Linda Gatlin, and Cathy Brewer. Not pictured are Marion Collins and Barbara Robinson.

Coverage of the University sports was accomplished this year under the direction of Bob Hanson.

KUOI

"This is the voice of the Vandal, KUOI, 660 on your radio dial."

This very familiar phrase to all Idaho students is the station break of KUOI, Idaho's ten-watt radio station. Campus and world news come to the student body, along with soothing study and listening music, through the work of student announcers.

The station, run by ASUI funds and also money obtained from advertisements given on the station has been a favorite of Moscow since its founding, and this past year was certainly no exception. Under the direction of Ed Seilstad, the station has made many improvements and has gained in listening audience.

Another aspect of the station is its valuable training for the future radio men who are gathering experience for future use. The work in keeping this station going is very similar to the operation of a commercial radio station. The students are in charge of managing, announcing, and balancing the books of the station, with the advice and help of the ASUI, and it is through this experience that the students benefit.

Ed Seilstad, the versatile manager of KUOI. Ed's job is a big one and consists of coordinating all of the activities of the station, a certain amount of announcing and the responsibility of doing or having done any technical work that should need to be done.

KUOI had a very interesting booth at the first dance of the year, carrying the Idaho-Arizona ball game. This booth was the object of many freshmen's attention and served to recruit a few announcers for the station.

Ed is not the kind of manager that sits back and tells others what to do. He enjoys his work as is shown by his interest in being a Disk Jockey.

Here, shown in a typical pose in front of the control panel of KUOI is Dale Nelson, who in the last year held down one of the staff positions. The staff as a whole worked very well together, despite the fact of being hampered by a station breakdown the last month of school. The Voice of the Vandal is brought to the Idaho campus by Dale and many like him who devote a certain amount of time each week to operating the station.

Varsity Band

The newly named Varsity Band has done much to promote school spirit in the past year. Under the direction of Bob Whipple, the organization has appeared at all pep rallies, football, and basketball games. New arrangements played by the group have added much to the games here at Idaho, and have certainly set the stage for the high-stepping cheerleaders. The University music department can certainly be proud of these yellow and grey clad musicians who very ably hold up the reputation of the department.

The members of the Pep Band take time out to form an interesting pattern with their instruments. From the ends of the horns shown burst many lively tunes during the year. The group during the year learned a variety of songs and certainly showed themselves to be superior to many of the other college bands.

Director of the band, Bob Whipple, a junior majoring in music. Through Bob's knowledge of the fundamentals and the direction of music he and his band have certainly made a name for themselves.

The band plays at a variety of activities throughout the year. Such things as pep rallies and football and basketball games are never missed by this hard-working crew.

In the mind of every woman on campus who takes part in the many activities, is the hope that some day she will be able to sit in this traditional May Day stage setting.

Service and Activities Clubs

The many students who serve the University in one way or another through their personal services for the University are the group that keep the Idaho campus running smoothly. When a student is chosen for one of these groups it is of course an honor, but along with the honor comes a lot of work, which is done willingly and without hesitation.

The men also have their ambitions fulfilled at the May Fete, where awards are given for outstanding service to the University. The foremost of these is, of course, to be chosen one of the top ten seniors. Dr. Theophilus is shown presenting one of these awards.

Spurs

The Spurs, sophomore women's service honorary, started out a busy year, as in past years, with their tapping held during the Mother's Day weekend. This event started a year of much activity with the girls ushering at all ASUI functions, such as movies, plays, and conferences. The girls helped make a success of the Frosh Orientation week, Blood Drive, and the basketball season by adding all their charm in assisting in these various activities. The Spurs again this year met with the Iks and had many enjoyable times at several dances and banquets. They also showed great proficiency in their Spur Waddle during the Idaho basketball season. Giving advice and adding sparkle to the meetings was Mrs. W. H. Boyer, Spur advisor.

Here the Spurs are shown with several of the other Idaho fans taking a stroll to Pullman following the Idaho-WSC football game.

Exchanges take place quite often between Idaho's chapter of Spurs and the Spurs at WSC. The girls have a good time and as is shown there is always plenty of food for everyone.

IK's

The IKs, sophomore men's honorary, have done this year, as in the past, many services for the University. These men started the year off with the Frosh Orientation, during which they helped the incoming freshmen find their way around campus and also helped them solve their problems. The familiar white sweater garb of these men was also seen at all of the football and basketball games, and at many other special occasions where they acted as ushers. The group enjoyed several parties during the year also, some of which included the Spurs.

The Spurs and the IKs got together at the end of the year for their annual banquet. As can be seen, a good meal was enjoyed by all.

Mortar Board

The distinctive white coats of these senior girls are a sign of a group whose main goals are activity and scholarship. The membership is chosen from outstanding junior women on campus at a suspense-filled ceremony at the May Fete. It is undoubtedly a thrill and an honor for the girls whose names are read at this time.

"Mums for Mother," becomes the main saying of the group at homecoming time when the whole group goes all out to provide mums for all of the women who appear on campus.

Silver Lance

Silver Lance is one of the highest honors that a student can receive at the University. To become a member of this honorary one must have already proven himself to be popular, a leader, a good student, and capable of handling a variety of activities with extreme care and efficiency. The new members of the group are tapped at the May Day activities, during the end of their sophomore year. The suspense filled moments of the tapping no doubt are retained in the minds of these men for many years.

Blue Key

Blue Key is the national junior men's honorary, an organization which is made up of those students of junior standing who have proven themselves to be outstanding in scholarship, activities and service to the school. The organization puts on the Blue Key talent show and also publishes the campus information book, the Campus Key. President of the group this year was Jack Cole.

Marvin Fischer and Dave Maxey, the two M.C.s of the Blue Key talent show who did a lot towards making the show a success.

Probably one of the hardest jobs on campus was done by these men who put the Campus Key into publication. The hard-working men are Dick Kerbs, Bob Vallat, and Tom Stroschein.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Made up of the president and rush chairman from each sorority on campus, the Pan-Hellenic Council formulates all policies concerning rush. Working with the Dean of Women, this group attempts to keep the activities of Rush Week coordinated for the benefit of both the girls going through rush and sorority members.

Inter-Frat Council

Policies governing the fraternity living groups on campus are considered by this group. Working together, these men have been able to create a feeling of unity among the various men's living groups.

Independent Caucus

Political representation is given to the independent students on campus by this group. Policies set forth by this group are carried through the elections by the Independent candidates. These policies are set up not only for the independent students but for the entire student body. Under the able leadership of Lee Wautenpaugh, the group was very active and showed themselves to be very strong.

Greek Caucus

The Greek Caucus, whose primary objective is to carry out the will of the campus as a whole, has shown a great deal of spirit this year in all campus political activities. For the first time in history the Greeks swept the class elections this year, for a total of sixteen offices. John Bradbury, presided as president of the group and it was partially through his leadership that the Caucus was able to make such great advances in the past year.

Junior IFC

The Junior IFC under the direction of IFC members, Lee Scott and Bob Carmody, has, this year, been one of the most active groups on campus. It is through this organization that the freshman class expresses its desires, just as do the older fraternity members in the IFC. Organized only two years ago, the club has shown great advances under the reins of Andy Anderson, ATO, who was president during the year.

Young Democrats

Information is given to the students of the University concerning the workings and ideas of the national party through this branch of the Democratic party. Information along these lines is obtained from speakers who appear periodically, throughout the year.

Shown is Senator Church, who was sponsored by the young Democrats, headed this year by John Bradbury. The forum provided by the senator together with the informative meetings throughout the year have done much to inform the members of the working of the Demo. party.

Young Republicans

Many of the discussions and campaigns carried on by the Republican party are carried on in a smaller way by this, the student branch of the national headquarters. Membership is open to anyone interested in the Republican party.

United Nations Delegates

These Idaho students represented Idaho at the annual model United Nations meeting. The group carried discussions concerning world affairs. Through these discussions the students learned much about the world situation and through their contacts with other students, have conveyed much of this information to other Idaho Students.

Cosmopolitan Club

The Cosmopolitan Club under the leadership of Peto Reed, does much to help foreign students feel at home here at Idaho. Many dinners and parties were held by the group this year in connection with a similar group in Lewiston, and also with only their own membership. It is felt by this group that by getting all of the foreign students on campus together, stronger ties can be made with each other and the school.

International Relations Club

Any student who is interested in undertaking and discussing current affairs can become a member of this organization. Through films, discussions, and speakers, the IRC attempts to acquaint its members with governmental relations in the United States and abroad.

Associated Foresters

The foresters of the campus are joined together in this organization which serves to promote greater interest and greater knowledge in the College of Forestry. This group puts on the Foresters ball and also the Forestry-Ag tug of war. Both of these events are of great campus interest.

Boker, Bill Simon, Claude Swarthout, Vern Indermuhle, Alan Robertson, Elwin Ross, Auggie Mueller, Bill Anderson, Don R. Gradwohl.

Mechanical Engineers

Many interesting activities throughout the year are enjoyed by the mechanical engineers. The group works in direct relationship with the national society of mechanical engineers and many times actually meets with the older society or invites a member in to their meetings so they may more fully understand their chosen profession. A special project each year participated in by the group is the Engineers ball, at which time the group makes a project for the dance.

Automotive Engineers

The Automotive Engineers are composed of students from the different departments of the College of Engineering. This organization was developed to familiarize the members with developments that have been made in all fields of transportation.

First Row: Gregory Knapp, Joe Wilson, Jason Troth, Robert Murphy, Melvin Taggart.
Second Row: Prof. William Barnes, Richard Peterson, chairman, Prof. Henry Silha, advisor, Vance Penton, Robert Westover, Paul Durning, Wilton Riggers.

A good percentage of the athletes on the campus are members of the Physical Education club. The group is made up of those athletes who are majoring in P.E. and are engaging in competitive sports. The names of these men are as familiar as their faces, by their pictures and stories about them throughout the year. Good sportsmanship and sportsmanlike conduct are two of the ideals carried forth to the field, maple court, diamond, or whatever the field of action may be, by these men of sports. They not only carry the ideals within themselves, but carry them to others on the playing field, and thus to the opposition. It is a good morale builder for the Idaho fan to see a game where these athletes compete, and to see the sportsmanlike conduct that is carried through the entirety of the game.

P. E. Club

Curtain Club

All of the dramatic activities of the University are coordinated through this organization which includes all drama students and instructors. The club serves to inform the students on the drama possibilities in later years, and also to help create an interest in the acting profession.

Attic Club

Art appreciation is stressed through this club which is made up of most of the art majors on campus. Through contacts with the fine arts, these students learn to more fully appreciate art and its values.

Vandalettes

The Vandalettes, the girls' drill team that was organized last year, came marching out in full costume this year at Homecoming, looking very stylish in their new uniforms. Besides marching at Homecoming, they also marched at a basketball game.

The shiny street shows up the white marching boots of the black clad Vandalettes in the homecoming parade.

In the preliminaries of the homecoming parade the girls are getting their lines straight for the long march down main street.

Church Organizations

Activities centering around churches are offered to each student at the University of Idaho. Some religious groups have their own centers on the campus while for the others, there is the non-denominational Campus Christian Center for meetings, fellowship, and study. The organizations on campus also work in close connection with the churches of Moscow.

The following three groups are active on the campus, but due to a mishap in the Gem darkroom, their pictures were ruined. With the apologies of the staff, we would still like to mention these groups.

LAMBDA DELTA SIGMA—This organization consists of the LDS students on the Idaho campus. The group meets at the LDS Institute regularly.

ROGER WILLIAMS CLUB—The Baptist Church in Moscow sponsors this group. They hold regular study meetings and in addition hold a coffee hour regularly at the Campus Christian Center.

CANTERBURY CLUB—This student group is for the Episcopalian students on campus. A few of their activities include discussion groups after dinner, a Christmas bazaar, and a pancake supper on Shrove Tuesday.

Westminster Foundation

The Westminster group is made up of the Presbyterian students on the campus. Being a very active organization, the group promotes a better interest in the church, and every day life.

Second Row: Jamie Hughes, Rosiland Bruce, Barbara Robinson, Helen Schiffler, Elizabeth McKee, Roberta Hawk, Judith Casebolt.
Third Row: Mary Sue Kniefel, Vauna Blevins, Charles Doaks, Mark Todd, Ann Stevens, Beth Stevens, Betty McClean.

Newman Club

One of the more active groups on the campus is the Newman Club, made up of the Catholic students. Activities such as dances and dinners have been participated in by the group in the past year.

Wesley Foundation

Wesley Foundation is a college age group sponsored by the Methodist Church of Moscow. They enjoy recreation, refreshments, programs, and worship together.

Three Vandals Play in East-West Game

For the first time in the history of Idaho athletics, three Vandals were selected to play in the annual Shrine East-West game. The three selected were guard Jerry Kramer, center Wayne Walker, and end Larry Aldrich. Kramer received all-American honors, PCC second team and was on all of the opponents' first teams. He was also selected to play in the North-South game and is the first Vandal player to be selected in the nine-year history of that game. Kramer was a standout on defense. Walker was selected to the second team of the PCC and was also outstanding on defense. Playing aside Kramer, this duo was the best in the nation and gave Idaho the distinction of having one of the most outstanding middle lines in the country. Aldrich received honorable mention on the PCC team and was an offensive stand-out for the Vandals. Plagued by injuries throughout most of the season, he was unable to reach his peak, but still did a terrific job.

Football

The Idaho Vandals finished the season with a 4-4-1 record which is their best since 1937. Many highlights gave the Vandals a very successful season, but bad breaks and injuries plagued them throughout the whole campaign. After losing two heartbreakers to Oregon and Arizona, the Vandals went on to win 4 of their next six games, beating Utah, Fresno State, Montana, and Utah State, losing to Washington State and Oregon State, and tying COP. Idaho had many individual stars throughout the season. Guard Jerry Kramer was picked as an all-American, and both Kramer and Center Wayne Walker made second team all PCC. Tackle Tony Anderson, fullback Ken Hall, and end Larry Aldrich received honorable mention on the PCC team. Kramer, Walker, and Aldrich were selected to play in the East-West game late in December.

The season opener was spoiled by a 22-yard field goal by Jack Morris of the Oregon Ducks. The game was a tough, hard bitten football game in which the decision was fought out, on tough terms in opposing lines. The Vandal and Duck forward walls banged ferociously all afternoon with neither line holding advantage for long. Defense was well in evidence throughout the game. Both coaches later commented on the fine play of the Vandal line. The field goal, which was the first for Oregon since 1949, sailed through the crossbars in the waning moments of the third quarter to give the Ducks a bitterly fought 9-6 victory over Idaho.

Breaks played an important part in the second Idaho loss. Arizona State's multiple offense wallowed in low gear throughout much of the game, but the Sun Devils capitalized at opportune moments to down the stubborn Vandals. Idaho, behind at the half, played an outstanding game the third and fourth periods. The Vandals picked good yardage in the air but were out-gained on the ground. Idaho's lone touchdown was set up by a brilliant punt return by sophomore halfback Paul Wagar. Guard Jerry Kramer and center Wayne Walker were singled out by Stahley for outstanding play in the line. Other outstanding players in the game were June Hanford, Larry Aldrich, Wagar, and Patterson.

Brilliant play by the whole center of the Idaho line and offensive standouts Hall and Willis, helped Idaho scalp the Redskins of Utah. All of Idaho's scores came on short plunges by Willis. Taking advantage of the breaks by recovering two fumbles, one near the Idaho goal line and the other deep in Utah territory paved the way for the victory. A terrific goal line stand by the center of the Idaho line proved to be the defensive play of the day as they held Utah on the one for four downs. Quick spurts by Hall's and Willis' passes kept Utah defenders on their toes. The Redskins were paced by their star quarterback Winters who sparked the Utes to their lone touchdown.

Alert Oregon State pounced on fumbles and intercepted passes to defeat the Vandals in a hard fought conference football game. The Idaho backfield, riddled by injuries could not match the Beavers' deep array of running talent. The Vandal's line, living up to its showing in other games this season, held the Beavers a number of times. The hard running backfield of Oregon State told the story for the most part. Fullback Bearer and Joe Francis were able to outmaneuver the Idaho defense. The Vandals put on the most determined drive early in the fourth quarter when they marched to Oregon State 9 and later fumbled. Willis to Aldrich was the only significant long gaining combination although Hall and Fenton were successful on short plunges.

The outplayed Tigers of COP took advantage of the breaks to tie the Vandals 7-7. The game started out as a rout when Idaho took the ball and marched 80 yards to a touchdown. Ken Hall burst the last one yard and Jerry Kramer kicked the conversion. A fumbled punt and pass interference proved to be the downfall of the Vandals. With fourth down on the Vandal 12, COP quarterback threw a pass out of the end zone. Pass interference was called and the ball was placed on the one. COP then proceeded to score and tie Idaho 7-7.

With 5,000 people in the stands during Idaho's Homecoming, the Vandals proved too powerful for the Bulldogs in the rain and mud as they beat them 20-6. Idaho's first score came on Ken Hall's 36-yard run in the first quarter. J. D. Lawson's recovery of a Bulldog fumble in the second quarter set up Idaho's second score. Willis ran for 13, passed for 10, and then scored on a one-yard plunge. Idaho's third score came on a 63-yard scoring play from a pass from Willis to Bob Dehlinger, with Dehlinger running the final 30 yards for the touchdown. The Bulldogs were sparked by their quarterback Kuhn, whose passes and tricky plays kept Idaho's defense on its toes all of the time.

Larry Norby's 96-yard touchdown run on the opening kickoff and Howard Willis' two touch-down passes with 65 seconds remaining in the half paved the way for a Vandal victory 31-13. Willis' touchdown passes were to Bob Dehlinger and Paul Wagar. The second half proved more of a defensive battle as both teams had to punt frequently. The touchdown score in the second half was attributed to a long sustained drive with Norby going over from the 3. With six seconds remaining in the game, Jerry Kramer, who had already kicked 4 conversions, proceeded to kick a 25-yard field goal. Montana's scoring was attributed to the great passing of their quarterback Keeley, who completed 16-26 for 151 yards.

Held to a 14-7 score at half time, the Vandals came back strong to smother the Aggies, 35-7. Many injuries plagued the Vandals the first half, but Kenworthy finally got Idaho rolling and completed 12-16 passes for 234 yards. Idaho's first score came on a 10-yard run by Norby and the second came on a 1-yard plunge by Felton. Both of these scores were the results of a long sustained drive. Idaho's other scores came on a 38-yard run by Felton, 15-yard run by Hall, and a 20-yard pass from Kenworthy to Dehlinger. Kenworthy's 234 yards were just shy of the record for a single game and if a 38-yard touchdown run had not been nullified by a clipping penalty, he would have set a new record. Utah State's lone score came on a 1-yard plunge after a 89-yard kickoff return.

The "Battle of the Palouse" was again an exciting and well fought game with the Cougars coming out ahead 21-13. Stout defenses for both teams were extremely important in the outcome of the game. The Vandals gave the Cougars all they had, but a costly fumble on the Cougar one-yard line proved fatal. Idaho's first score came on a sustained drive of 62 yards with Kenworthy going over from the one. Idaho's second score came on a 38-yard pass play from Kenworthy to Dehlinger. Washington State was sparked by their All-PCC quarterback, Bob Newman, who threw passes all over the field to lead the WSC team to victory.

The Idaho Vandals finished a terrific season winning 17 and losing 9 and finishing fourth in the PCC with 9 wins and 7 losses. The Vandals started fast, then a disastrous road trip following Hal Damiano's injury hurt the chances of the team's winning the PCC title. They then finished very strong beating California and Oregon State in their last two games. After the coast road trip Jerry Jorgenson came back and played in the last five games and gave a big uplift to the Vandal team who won 4 of their last five games. The team had many bright spots with Gary Simmons leading all scorers in the PCC with 346 points for an average of 21.6 per game. Simmons also hit the high of any player in the PCC with 38 points against Southern California. Gary Simmons broke the all-time record for a Vandal player for his four years at the University.

Head coach Harlen Hodges completed his fourth year as coach of the varsity basketball team and this year was truly the best season Idaho has had in a long time. Having the material to work with and consistent scorers in Simmons and Coleman, he worked his team into a close knit organization. We are all very proud of Coach Hodges and the terrific job he did this year.

Wayne Anderson's frosh team finished the season with 8 wins and 7 losses. Although this record is not too impressive, the players gained valuable experience for next year's varsity team. The team was hit hard at semester time with one guard and two centers becoming ineligible due to grades.

Time out during the WSC series to look for Jim Branom's contact lens.

Idaho started the PCC season fast with a decisive 67 to 59 conquest over the Stanford Indians. Utilizing a fast break to near perfection, the Indians did the best they could to stay in the game. Simmons led all scorers with 21 points, McEwen had 16, and Liveious had 12.

The game at Stanford was a different story as the Vandals had cold streaks throughout the game and were unable to catch Stanford.

The Vandals split their two games with the Trojans losing the first game and winning the second. The first game see-sawed back and forth until late in the fourth quarter when USC connected on twelve straight free throws to go into the lead which they never relinquished. McEwen led Vandal scoring with 18 followed by Liveious with 15. The second game was a complete runaway as the Vandals hit a good percentage of their shots with Simmons hitting from nearly everywhere on the floor. Simmons led all scorers with 38 points, 12 field goals and 14 for 16 free throws.

Poor shooting coupled with failure to control the backboards resulted in Idaho's dropping their first game with the Bruins. The Vandals also split with the PCC champs, the California Bears. In losing their first game to the Bears 70-62, Idaho was somewhat stymied by the full court press and ball control which the Bears employed. The second game was a reverse of the first as the Vandals were unstoppable hitting 52 per cent of their shots and 22 of 27 from the free throw line. This was strictly a team effort as Simmons and Branom scored 19 each, Liveious and Coleman 16 each, and McEwen 10. This victory forced California into a play-off with Oregon State.

Idaho suffered a stunning defeat at the hands of the Beavers during the two teams' first meeting this year. The Vandals, hampered by general sluggishness, trailed by only 5 points at the end of the first half, but the Beavers were soon able to widen the margin. OSC entered the second game leading the PCC, a position which they were firmly knocked from by a determined Idaho five. The Vandals finished their best season in years by winning 17 games and losing 9. Idaho came in fourth in PCC standing with a record of 9 wins and 7 losses, beating every team in the conference at least once and beating the Cougars twice. Finishing their pre-season record of 8 wins and 2 losses the Vandals hit a high when they scored 100 points against the University of Alaska. Starting PCC play, the Vandals scored a victory over Stanford and lost to Southern California. During both games the Vandals showed a lot of hustle and good ball handling. The team then traveled to California and again split, beating Southern California and losing to UCLA. Gary Simmons led the Vandal attack against USC as he scored 38 points. The Vandals then returned to club the Cougars twice. Just before first semester ended the Vandals beat the Oregon Ducks. Then disaster hit the team when Hal Damiano was injured in a car accident. With the morale of the team down, the Vandals proceeded to lose 3 games in a row to Washington, Oregon, and Oregon State on a fatal road trip. The Vandals then came back to UCLA with Simmons scoring 37 points. The Vandals proceeded to beat Washington and lose to California as they made their record 7 wins and 6 losses. Traveling to California, Idaho lost to Stanford and then staggered the leading Bears by trouncing them very convincingly. The Vandals then went on to smash the Beavers from Oregon State to end the season with a very successful campaign. Gary Simmons was elected the team's most valuable player and Whaylon Coleman won the most inspirational award. Simmons ended the season by scoring 530 points for an average of 20.4 points a game. Simmons led all PCC scorers with 316 points in 16 games for an average of 21.6 points a game. Simmons was elected to the PCC first team and Coleman was elected to the second team to end the season in grand fashion.

Swimming

The Vandal swimming team had quite a few lettermen back from last year's squad but still had no depth. Starting out by beating EWCE, the finmen began the season well by winning 8 out of 10 first places paced by Len Lawr's wins in the 100- and 220-yard freestyle and Chet Hall's record-breaking 200-yard breaststroke, easily overwhelming the Cheney team. The Vandals then split their next two meets losing to Washington and beating WWCE. In the Washington meet, the Vandal swimmers could do no better than 3 second places: Alex Gilbert in the 200-yard butterfly; Ken Goodwin, 50-yard freestyle; and Ron Edwards, diving. The meet against WWCE was just the opposite as Idaho won all first places with Dave Damon, 200-yard freestyle; Goodwin, 50-yard freestyle; Jim Phillips, diving; Gilbert, 200-yard butterfly; Sam McNeill, 440-yard freestyle; Hall, 220-yard breaststroke; and Lawr in the 100- and 200-yard freestyle. The Vandals then lost a heartbreaker to the Cougars by one point. The Vandal team was paced by Phillips and Edwards, diving and Lawr in the 100-yard freestyle. The relay teams did very well. The Vandals were then defeated by the Utah Redskins by winning only two events, the 400-yard medley relay, composed of Larry Nelson, John Price, Hall, and Lawr, and the 60-yard freestyle won by Phillips. The Vandals lost soundly to the OSC Beavers with only 3 Vandals winning second places: Hall in the breaststroke; Nelson, in the backstroke; and Lawr in the 100-yard freestyle.

The Vandals then evened their season record by beating Montana and EWCE. Led in both meets by Lawr, Goodwin, Nelson, Phillips, and Dave Roscoe, the finmen soundly beat them. Losing the final meet of the season to WSC the Vandals were all set for the Northern Division Meet at Seattle. In the ND meet the Vandals could only manage one third and one fourth with John Price in the 100-yard breaststroke and Len Lawr in the 100-yard freestyle. Price was elected as the Vandals' most valuable swimmer as Chet Hall was elected the most inspirational swimmer.

Cross Country

With seven returning lettermen from last year's undefeated team, Joe Glander's cross country team did very well. The Vandal runners swept past the Cougars by winning the first four places. Ray Hatton, Ron Adams, Frank Wyatt, and Peter Reed gave the Vandals their four places. Wilt Riggers rounded out the top 5 with a seven place finish. The Vandals then went on to beat WSC two more times. The Vandals again were led by Hatton, Wyatt, Adams, Reed and Riggers. The Vandal runners lost their first meet in two years when the two top runners missed a turn and were disqualified and the team finished in second place, six points behind WSC. The Vandals then swept the first three places and Dick Boyce's eighth place finish in the Vancouver, B.C. meet to beat all other teams by over forty points. The Vandals then defeated WSC again for a tune-up for the PCC meet in California. The Vandals then won their first PCC Championship in the school's history by winning the Coast Crown. Wyatt paced the harriers with a second place finish, followed by Hatton's sixth place finish, Adams' seventh place finish and Dick Boyce's tenth place finish.

Idaho's tennis team won only one tennis match out of nine beating EWCE 4-3. Idaho lost to Whitman twice, 7-0 and 4-3, WSC twice, 5-2 and 5-2, and lost once to EWCE 4-3, Oregon 6-1, Oregon State 7-0, and Washington 7-0. Having only one veteran back from last year's team hurt the team considerably. Stan Pierce, senior 2-year letterman; Bob Eyer, sophomore and number one man; Cal Lui and Bob Hansen, sophomores; and Al Sudweeks, junior, made up the team. Valuable experience was obtained and Idaho's tennis team should improve considerably in the future by the sophomore laden team.

Tennis

Golf

Idaho's golf team again paced by Captain Dick Sheppard won three out of five matches in ND play and then finished second in the Northern Division Meet. They then traveled to California where they finished fifth in the PCC meet. They beat WSC twice, Washington once, and lost to Oregon and Oregon State in ND play. Other members of the team include Rusty Sheppard, John Rosholt, Jack Snider, Lynn Hansen, Mike Heaton, and John Cranston. Losing only Dick Sheppard, Cranston, and Heaton, the team should be very strong next season.

Baseball

The Vandal Baseball team although weakened in the pitching department due to graduation last year had a successful season. Although not winning as many as they lost, they defeated WSC in the last game of the season 5-3. A Cougar victory would have won the conference for WSC. Idaho finished fourth with a record of 4 wins and 12 losses ahead of cellar dwelling Washington. Knute Westergren was again the leading Vandal hitter batting close to .330.

Bill Stellman — three-year senior letterman from Lewiston, Idaho, played terrific ball both of field and at bat to help lead the Vandal attack.

Knute Westergren — three-year senior letterman from Twin Falls, Idaho, again played outstanding ball for the Vandals. He led the team in hitting with an average of .330. These two men will be a big loss to next year's team.

The Vandal baseball team played good ball occasionally but lacked in steady pitching most of the time. Val Johnson and Clark Anderson were the mainstays on the Vandal team, both turning in good games. Bill Stellman, three-year letterman, again held down first base and did a very good job both hitting and fielding. Holding down second base was Jim Chrisman with Larry Hattermer and Freman Pasold fighting it out for third base. Knute Westergren, a three-year letterman, did an excellent job of holding down the shortstop position. He again pounded the ball all over the outfield and led the Vandals in hitting. Playing good ball throughout the season in the outfield were Wayne Riggs, Jim Throckmorton, and Bob Dehlinger. Alternating at the catchers spot were Ted Knivila and Ray Fry.

Baseball

The Vandals behind the pitching of Val Johnson and the hitting of Knute Westergren beat the Cougars in their first outing 5-3. Johnson was tough when it counted and Westergren's two booming triples were too much for the Cougars. The Vandals lost the second game of the series 4-1, although they played good ball and collected nine hits, they were unable to capitalize on their hits. The highlight of the season came when Jim Throckmorton smashed a home run with one on to beat the Cougars 5-3 in the last of the tenth inning after the Cougars had won the first game 8-0. Val Johnson again pitched brilliant ball as he limited the Cougars to seven hits. Throckmorton also collected two doubles and was in every scoring play.

The Vandals managed only one win out of four games with the Beavers. Val Johnson again pitched brilliant ball and limited the Beavers to only six hits. Westergren led the Vandal attack getting two hits in each of two games, Riggs and Stellman each collected two hits in one game. In losing the Vandals still played good ball and just couldn't get the hits when they were needed.

The Vandals couldn't win a game from Oregon in their four-game series with the Ducks. Poor pitching and hitting at times proved to be the downfall of the Vandals. Don Lane, Oregon pitcher, pitched no hit ball in winning 11-0. He allowed only four men to reach first base. No Vandal hitter collected more than two hits during the series.

Idaho opened ND play with a brilliant 2-1 victory over the Huskies from Washington. Two spectacular fielding plays saved the game for pitcher Clark Anderson. Both pitchers allowed only three hits with the Washington pitchers striking out fifteen batters and Anderson striking out eight. The two games at Washington were a different tale. The Vandals lost both of them 9-4 and 6-0. Poor hitting in the clutch and not getting enough hits were the downfall of the Vandal team. Westergren paced the hitters in the series with Washington.

Second Row: Reed, Boyce, Kahl, Durham, Hoqan, Coach Glander. Third Row:

Track

The Vandal track did not win a dual meet for the second straight year but had many individual performers. Frank Wyatt won every dual meet two-mile run and copped the year off by winning the ND two-mile race in 9:14. This led Idaho to a fourth-place finish, three points ahead of Oregon State. Charlie Kahl was outstanding in the pole vault winning many dual meets and placing fourth in the pole vault in the ND with a leap of 13 feet. His best performance of the year was 13 ft. 6 in. Larry Ferguson, star high jumper for the Vandals this season, placed fourth in the ND meet with a jump of 6 ft. 1 in. This was Ferguson's best jump of the year. Ron Adams led the Vandals in the mile run, and did a very outstanding job in the ND meet. Running the best time he ever has, Adams finished third. Dick Boyce, fleet-footed half-miler, also ran his best half-mile of the year, four seconds under his previous low but still managed only a third place finish. Dave Durham, star quarter-miler was ill at the time of the ND meet and was unable to compete. Durham was a consistent point getter for the Vandals as was Bill Overholser in both the high and low hurdles. The Vandals were very weak in the short sprints and in the weights. An even better team is expected next year, as only Hogan and Dick Shern will graduate.

Skiing

The Vandal skiing team coached by Joe Glander started the season out with sixth place in a field of seven teams at Red Mountain, British Columbia, Canada. Mike Lund led the field for top honors by placing high in slalom, cross country, downhill, and jumping. Injuries to Joe Bryhn and Viggo Freiling in the meet hurt the team considerably throughout the rest of the season. The slatmen finished third at the Northwest Intercollegiate Championship at Snoqualmie. By placing fourth in slalom, paced by Lund, Jim Douglas, Freiling and Jack Brown; finishing fourth in cross country, paced by Lund, Hilmar Lunde, and Freiling; coming in second in the giant slaloms, paced by Lund, Freiling, and Brown; and the high point of the meet was in jumping, paced by Freiling, Lunde, and Lund the team finished third and had the right to go to Dartmouth for the Championships but did not attend.

Intramural . . .

Lindley Hall again won the Intramural Championship beating Willis Sweet by thirty-four points. Delta Tau Delta edged Beta Theta Pi for top place in fraternities by seventeen points. The intramural season started off with the Delts winning the Turkey Trot. This was followed by TMA repeating as football champs and the Phi Delts winning tennis. Idaho Club won swimming and the Tekes repeated as volley ball champs. Gault Hall won their first intramural championship in 'A' basketball, and the Kappa Sigs won 'B' basketball. TMA won table tennis and the ATO won golf. The horseshoe crown was won by the SAEs and softball was won by the Fijis for the fourth straight year. The Delts won the intramural track for the second straight year to move ahead of the Betas for third place in total points. The Betas were fourth, followed by TKE, PGD, TMA, SAE, and PDT to round out the top ten. The intramural program was under the able direction of Clem Parberry.

C S

Governor Robert E. Smylie

Robert E. Smylie has completed his fourth year as a most successful Governor of the Gem State, and as a devoted assistant to the student body of the University of Idaho.

It has been a tradition for Governor Smylie to visit the University of Idaho many times throughout the school year. This year he was the special guest at the dedication of Idaho's new library and at Commencement exercises.

Board of Regents

The Board of Regents is the governing body for the University of Idaho. The authority of the board comes from the Constitution of the State of Idaho. These people are entrusted with many important tasks, and all appointments and official acts must be approved by them before they become operative.

Curtis Eaton, Twin Falls; Alton B. Jones, Boise, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Ex-Officio Member of the Board; Mrs. Marquerite Campbell, New Meadows, secretary; John Spencer, Grangeville, president; John Graham, Rexburg, vice-president; and John Peacock, Kellogg.

Our President D. R. Theophilus

President Theophilus is in his fourth year as the leader of our university. Previous to his appointment in the spring of 1955, Dr. Theophilus was Dean of the College of Agriculture.

President Theophilus is noted not only for his effectiveness in this important position, but also for his understanding and helpfulness. The years under the guidance of Dr. Theophilus have been very successful ones for the university.

Executive Committee

The Executive Committee serves as an advisory body for the president. Also, whenever necessary, this group acts in official capacity during the absence of executive officers.

Around the table they are Dean James Kraus, Dean L. C. Cady, Mr. Kenneth Dick, President Donald R. Theophilus, Dean H. Walter Steffens, Dean Charles O. Decker, and Mr. Rafe Gibbs.

Administrative Council

Aiding the president with administrative duties, this group coordinates the programs of the various divisions and colleges in order to keep these units functioning smoothly throughout the year. The Council also handles routine petitions from students.

Interim Committee of the Faculty

This committee considers matters of academic importance originating from the president or the faculty in general. They consider policy changes and then work through the Administrative council to put any new projects into effect.

Student Affairs

The University of Idaho prides itself on its counselors who are available at all times to help students solve their individual problems at college. This year the new Dean of Women, Mrs. Neeley, won the affection of all the women students with her enthusiasm and sympathetic aid. Other counselors familiar with student needs are Dean Decker and Guy Wicks. Especially helpful to those with career problems is Chief Counselor Charles Bond who directs guidance tests for incoming freshmen and other students who are having difficulties in determining their major interests.

The Administration

A well developed and organized administration is continually working for the University of Idaho. The many tasks managed by this busy group of officials include the administration of university finances, publications and news, and student health services. These are also the individuals who efficiently supervise our library, and take care of student records and student expenses to the university.

College of Letters and Science

The College of Letters and Science is composed of eight major departments: art and architecture, biological sciences, home economics, humanities, mathematics, music, physical sciences, and social sciences.

Practical instruction coupled with the cultural values of the fine arts and great literature of the world lead students in this college to careers related to the learning they pursue. In this college the students not only have an opportunity for specialized study, but also a chance to explore the subject matter of a wide variety of courses that give him a broad understanding and perspective in years to come. The intangible values that build character are garnered through close relationships of teachers and students in classes that demand deep thinking about problems concerning human relations, purposes and values.

College of Education

The well-being of our state and nation depends to a large extent upon the quality of its teachers, and each year men and women are graduated who are expertly trained and qualified to do their jobs. Idaho's School of Education was organized in 1920 and it prepares its students for careers as teachers, supervisors, administrators, psychologists, and personnel officers.

Students completing a four-year teacher-training program are eligible to receive elementary or high school certificates in this state and many other states.

The professional education courses include the study of the characteristics of the human individual and his process of physical, mental, and social growth; a study of the backgrounds, objectives, and effects of education; a study of and practice in instructional methods, and a study of the professional status of the educational worker.

What's this?? It's a group of engineering students studying an instrument in an engineering lab. Prof. Jobe looks on.

Lowell Vanskike, a senior from Wallace, Idaho, was selected as outstanding electrical engineer for this year. He was presented a certificate for the outstanding engineer at the annual Tri-Sectional Meeting of the Associated Institute of Electrical Engineers. Lowell is presently the chairman of the A.I.E.E. student branch.

College of Agriculture

The College of Agriculture can claim the title of being one of the top agricultural schools in our nation. Students come from all parts of the globe to study and learn the skills of agriculture that are taught here.

A three-fold program of teaching, research, and service is practiced. An 800-acre University farm with purebred animals and modern equipment is utilized to carry on the extensive scientific study.

Toward the end of the school year the agriculture students participate in a week-long observance of their achievements known as "Little International Week." Speech finals, judging contests and various displays of the fields of agriculture are included in the traditional observance. Rich experiences such as these make the students of this college proud of their future chosen profession, that of bettering the land.

Dean, College of Business Administration

Students in the College of Business enroll for a two-year basic course. After this is completed they can choose a major from one of the seven fields offered: general business, accounting, economics, foreign trade, merchandising, advertising, secretarial studies, and extractive studies. A special program for preparation and admission to the College of Law is offered.

A wide scope of excellent opportunities awaits the student who receives a degree from this college. Dean Kendrick has done an excellent job in his first year as dean.

College of Mines

EARL F. COOK
Dean, College of Mines

The College of Mines was established many years ago in the University because of the early pronounced importance of mineral substances in the cultural and economic life of Idaho. The mineral future of Idaho continues to be bright because of the recent spurt of interest in the occurrences of industrial minerals in the state.

The College of Mines is recognized as one of the leading schools among American universities in training its students. Training can be gained in Mining Engineering, Metallurgical Engineering, Geological Engineering, Geology and Geography in both graduate and undergraduate work. The picture is even more attractive today than it has been and unparalleled opportunities are offered for successful professional work.

Map interpretation classes are one of the phases of education important to students in the College of Mines.

Practical experience is gained from this mines planning class.

College of Forestry

The University of Idaho's nationally top-rated College of Forestry is a nation-wide attraction, drawing students from nearly every state in the Union and from several foreign countries. The students are kept busy with a program of study of forests, fish, ranges, wildlife, plants, game birds, and wood utilization in laboratories and classrooms.

The foresters have a 7000-acre experimental forest within 14 miles of the campus, a tree nursery producing stock for planting throughout Idaho, and a large arboretum showing off its 150 varieties of trees, particularly in the fall.

Highlighting the earning of a degree in forestry is the eight-week summer camp held in the woodlands surrounding Payette Lakes near McCall. This is certainly an enjoyable climax to a forester's college program.

College of Law

E. S. STIMSON
Dean, College of Law

The College of Law at the University is affiliated with the Association of American Law Schools which endeavors to improve the legal education in our country. The curriculum offered prepares Idaho law students for general practice in any state in the Union.

Supervised courses of study in commercial law, property relationship, public law and administration, and procedure and judicial administration prepare students for the special objectives of a profession in law, whether it be a lawyer, judge or a law instructor.

A moot court is held in which students are trained to try a case. Interviewing witnesses go through procedures they would meet in an actual trial. They are tried in the Latah District or Federal Court in which the law professors or local attorneys act as judges. When trial is completed the students criticize the methods used.

Dean of Graduate School

Graduate School

Over one hundred students received a Master's Degree from the University graduate school this spring. Since its beginning in 1909, the graduate school has had increased enrollment each year. The dominant aim of this school is to develop scholars capable of original and creative advancement. There are fifty different majors leading to masters' degrees offered by the various colleges comprising the University of Idaho. The entire graduate school has an enrollment of over five hundred.

VIRGINIA SYMMS

Active in WRA activities during her four years at Idaho, Ginger served as president of WRA during the 1957-58 term. Planning for a new Student Union Building kept her busy as one of the most active members of the SUB committee. Ginger also served as Mortar Board vice-president. She was a member of Pi Beta Phi where she was house president during her senior year.

DEAN JUDD

Dean probably was one of the busiest seniors on campus during the last year, for he had the responsibility of keeping the Idaho students aware of university news. As editor of the Argonaut, "Jason's" comments on campus events were read every Tuesday and Friday by the student body.

Ten Top Seniors

Ten seniors were awarded certificates as outstanding members of their class at the annual May Fete this year. The ten were selected by a committee consisting of the Dean of Women, Dean of Men, ASUI General Manager, Alumni Secretary, Junior members of Executive Board, and the faculty member of the Executive Board. Names are originally submitted by deans of the various colleges and selection is made from these names. Aspects considered in making the awards are leadership, service to the university, scholarship, attitude toward the school, and living group participation.

CHARLENE ROTH

Majoring in agriculture, Charlene proved that she could successfully enter a so-called man's field. She was an active member of livestock judging teams and also took an active part in journalism activities on campus. A member of Mortar Board, Charlene completed her college career by graduating with highest honors.

LOWELL MARTIN

As a member of Executive Board during his senior year, Lowell made outstanding contributions to student government at Idaho. He also belonged to Blue Key and Silver Lance. During his junior year, he served his class as president.

Ten Top

DONALD INGLE

Don spent four years of hard work on the Idaho Argonaut and served as Associate Editor during his senior year. He brought national recognition to the Idaho campus when he was elected Grand Duke of the Intercollegiate Knights.

MARTHA SUE DEMPSEY

As a botany major, Martha Sue won many honors scholastically during her college years. She was a member of Spurs and served as Mortar Board president during her senior year.

ERNEST DAVENPORT

Ernie proved to be an active member of Blue Key and IKs during his four years at Idaho. He was active within his living group, Delta Tau Delta, and was president of the house during the past year. Ernie was one of the outstanding students in the College of Engineering and achieved much recognition in his major field.

Seniors

MARY OWL

Mary guided Hays Hall through the year, serving as president. She was especially active in the many music groups on campus as well as being an outstanding student in her major field, Home Economics. Mary was a member of Mortar Board during her senior year.

JOHN CHAPMAN

Always active in campus politics, John served as an Executive Board member in his senior year. His participation in I.K.s earned him much recognition. John was also an interested member of his fraternity and served as president.

DAVID MAXEY

As ASUI president, Dave spent most of his senior year working for the students at the University. Active in Blue Key, Dave also found time to be master of ceremonies at the Blue Key Talent Show. A member of Silver Lance, Dave also served as an Executive Board member during his junior year.

Senior Officers

Leading the Class of 1958 through its final year at the Alma Mater were Mike Patton, President; John McMennamin, Vice-President; Lorraine Langdon, Secretary; and Patti Reoso, Treasurer.

Seniors paused to relax a minute before marching into the Memorial Gym to receive their rewards for four years of work.

Guiding the Junior class were Neal Newhouse, president; Carolyn Edwards, secretary; Dick Kerks, vice-president and Marge Ersted, treasurer

The Freshman Class Class of 1961

The freshman class, one of the largest yet, spilled onto the University of Idaho campus this fall with enthusiasm and vigor. Led by their capable class officers elected in the fall, the class sponsored many successful activities. One of the most successful projects was the United Fund Drive when freshmen collected $1469 from Moscow donors. The annual Frosh Week and Dance was also termed a success.

Frosh women wait for their initiation into Spurs following the early morning tapping during the May Fete.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Alpha Lambda Delta is the freshman women's scholastic honorary which requires a grade point of 3.5 for membership. This year's old and new members include:

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma is the national scholastic honorary for freshmen men. A 3.5 grade point at semester is required for eligibility.

FELIX MARCOLIN, President

Campus Club

One of the three frame dormitories that were to be closed by the end of last semester, Campus Club ended its existence in a more spectacular way and burned to the ground during the last weeks of school. The fire left over one hundred men homeless, with only the clothes that they were wearing, in most cases. But probably more concern was expressed by students who lost term papers or notebooks due at the end of the semester. One result of the fire was the statement made by the administration that there would be no more frame buildings on the University of Idaho campus. Plans were immediately under way, also, to provide a new cooperative living place for men.

REED WELKER, President

LDS House

Ten new house members and we had to buy a new power mower to get them to mow the lawn! Wonder if we'll need a new automatic sidewalk shoveler next winter? . . . Was an eventful year under the leadership of Reed Welker and Jack Taylor . . . many achievements during the year: Osterhout and Hendricks were pledged in I.K.

. . . Petersen initiated into Alpha Epsilon Delta; Taylor and Welker in Sigma Tau . . . Darrell Weber chancellor of Alpha Zeta . . . 100 per cent blood drive donations. . . Three house members elected officers in Ag Club . . . "Sunset," our spring formal topped off a great year.

Pine Hall

The end of the first semester saw the end of use of Pine Hall as a dormitory for men on the Idaho campus. Long a subject of controversy, the old frame hall is no longer needed and has been replaced by modern structures. Despite the dubious construction of Pine Hall, the building was considered home by several male students and it was with regret that they moved to new living groups at the beginning of the second semester.

Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu started the year off with a bang under the leadership of "Coon" Requist who was succeeded in the spring election by "Drifter" Ringe. . . . A good time was had by all when we built the huge pig for the homecoming float with the able help of the Kappas . . . Kuzon Campbell is the new house movie critic and Russ Whitney is making them as fast as Kuzon can watch them. . . . We went native and sang the Banana Boat Song with the Pi Phis in the spring song fest . . . Sheep-dip Noh is going to lead the IKs through a successful year as Duke of the organization . . .

Dave Roscoe has started the Western TV Watchers Association . . . Jerry Smythe took the Ugly Man Contest this year and was voted the Most Inspirational Football Player of '57, and Jerry Kramer who received numerous bowl bids is planning to step into professional football next fall . . . Willis, Norby, Farnsworth, Hanford, Symms, and Evans are all backing them up out on the gridiron. . . . All in all it was a very successful year and plans are already being made to really get things rolling again next fall.

Editor's Appreciation

Summer arrived early in Moscow this year. With its appearance, the prospect of finals and the end-of-the-semester rush seemed almost unbearable to the great majority of Idaho students, and the Gem Staff members were no exceptions to the rule. In the last weeks of the year tempers were under a strain when lost photo orders were discovered or when a darkroom mishap ruined pictures that had already been rescheduled three times. Most section editors were ready to call it a day and retreat to a quiet corner of the campus to contemplate the best way to acquire a suntan. But, they kept on the job, and the results of their year-long efforts are seen in this book. To all the staff goes a big "thank you" for the hours of work, patience, and understanding.

To the many others who helped throughout the year with the Gem, a special appreciation is in order:

To "Uncle" Gale Mix who always had an answer to the editor's cry, "I have a Problem!" And to the entire ASUI office staff for their help.

To Kay Conrad, the 1959 Gem Editor, who served as an associate editor of this book. Kay's efficiency in the office and her extra hours on the job were invaluable.

To Marjie Bradbury for her helping hand as associate editor.

To Margaret Remsberg, Photography Editor, who never neglected her duties in one of the most demanding jobs on the Gem staff.

To Bruce Wendle, Darkroom Manager, and to his staff for the fine cooperation and long hours of work for the Gem.

To Roy Bell, Rafe Gibb, and Don Walker for their assistance in Photographs and printing Gem pictures.

To Rudy for his help in the Queen Section. And to both Rudy's and Hutchinson's Studios for their cooperation with class and living group pictures.

To Paul Evans, the Caxton Printers artist whose skill created a theme for the book out of the editor's vague ideas.

And to Jim Gipson and his staff at Caxtons, an especially big "thank you" for the year's assistance and advice.

It also takes the cooperation of the entire system of organizations, living groups, and administration within the University to make the publication of a yearbook possible. To all of you, the entire Gem staff expresses its appreciation. The book is for your use and enjoyment. In its pages and pictures of the past year, may it bring you memories of the spirit of Idaho.
