BRITISH CYCLING CODE OF CONDUCT

Together with our partners, we are fully committed to transforming Britain into a great cycling nation. A key part of this is to provide trusted governance to the sport of cycling. This resource will underpin the sport and activity of cycling by outlining our values and behaviours whilst offering guidance on good practice, based on our strategic foundations. A breach of this Code of Conduct may be considered as misconduct and result in disciplinary action in accordance with our Disciplinary Regulations. As an absolute minimum, British Cycling expects affiliated clubs, members, Regional Board members, Commission members, coaches, officials, staff, volunteers and anyone who participates in the sport of cycling to be driven by the values detailed in the British Cycling Code of Conduct, which can be found, along with the general regulations and disciplinary procedures online at https://www.britishcycling.org.uk/track/article/bcst_rulebook_and_constitution?c= SX
